Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (SKIRVIN)

That solitary player who lost $1700 had better hired a guard. You can buy a deck of cards for 25 cents. This solitary playing is wasting time, and some one who estimated time said it was worth money. Well, I'd be willing to bet any time to exchange a dirty old solitary deck for money. Way it is now the best I can do is to give the old dirty deck to the grandson. He's smarter than "the old man." He throws it away. That boy knows something about the value of time.

The market report on oranges last week showed an "up." Veteran grower expressed his opinion to me that the price would gradually improve during the rest of the season. You see I talk a lot about oranges because a lot of people talk to me about them, and there are a lot of people in Orange county who raise oranges.

This is the week the Shriners all over the country accumulated in Los Angeles. As one of the city papers said last week, the only thing that was needed to make the convention a success was more Shriners. The same thing was said about the Republican party after the Roosevelt-Landon campaign.

The best news I've read for some time was the interview by Henry Ford in which he said, "We are going to have the greatest era of prosperity and happiness we have ever known. You know that's the way the fellow I've been looking for for sometime. A fellow by the name of Hoover said the same thing back in the early '30's, and I chased him around corner after corner until I wore all the corners off, and there wasn't much left of me. Now Henry, I'm in no shape for a marathon. 'You ain't foolin', are you?'"

When the wheels start clicking over the rail joints and I'm not all wet—that will be a realistic harbinger of better times. One of my favorite indications of better times is carloadings. We have the biggest wheel crop in the history of the country. Big corn crop coming, too. When you can get grain and livestock into freight cars, that means business. You can't have a barometer of better times, give me the clicking rails and exhaust of the old steam locomotive. The railroads are still the important element in transportation.

And talking about better business. Retail figures show about an eight per cent improvement over the preceding week. Seasonable weather is also a contributing factor.

I do not know the most courteous, efficient, and honest county, but The Journal wants to find out. So it is conducting a vacation campaign in order to discover those "who are about to be rewarded." A seven-day vacation trip to Seattle via United Air liner is tops for this contest, second a week's vacation at Yosemite park, and third a three-day trip to San Diego via streamliner. You can nominate your favorite candidate by getting a nomination blank which appears in The Journal. There isn't space here to tell you about how to get your favorite candidate get one of these tempting vacation trips, so read the rules and conditions and busy yourself in behalf of your friend. There isn't a chance for me. Employees of this paper are excluded from participation, and then sometimes I'm not very courteous.

J. Stubbs, of Anaheim, is doing a little trucking of his own. Stubbs thinks he has a solution to the Valencia orange problem. In order to create a larger demand for oranges he is taking an eight-year-old orange tree on a truck to New York city and will display it to school children and chambers of commerce. Stubbs says millions of people would eat oranges never saw one growing on a tree. So he excavated the tree, which has 700 oranges on it, placed it on a truck and is now en route to the east with it. Stubbs's theory is that if those who now eat oranges will eat just one more each week the demand will exceed the supply. More power to him.

Los Angeles paper in presenting seven girls in bathing suits who are to act as waitresses for visiting Shriners, in the footnote calls attention to the hats. A very thoughtful suggestion. Other hats would not have been noticed.

My friend Nixon Waterman of Canton, Mass., verse writer ever since I can remember, age definitely on the gray side, appropriately introduces a communication to me: "We who are about to die, salute you." "Nick" has just been elected president of the Boston Author's club for another year. He muses over the old "cub" days in a Midwest daily newspaper. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

FRANCO MEN, ITALIANS ENGAGE IN OPEN CONFLICT

FINLEY'S RECALL IS PROJECTED

Recall petitions against Supervisor Steele Finley of Santa Ana were being prepared today, as Finley stood squarely on the spot over administration of the welfare department.

Supervisors tomorrow may oust Welfare Director Jack Snow, with Finley holding the axe. Snow last week fired Assistant Director Belle Spangler and Mrs. Mary Lyons, case aide—but was ordered by the board to reinstate them, "or else."

The two women have not been officially reinstated, although Snow made no statement as to what he would do.

Leaders of the pending recall—Finley movement, who declined to make public statements, indicated they may begin circulating the petitions should Finley be successful in ousting Snow and thereby in the position of supervisors in the position of managing the department's internal affairs.

CHANEY MENTIONED

Homer Chaney, former city councilman, was mentioned as a possible candidate for Finley's job but told The Journal he is opposed to being recalled and "wouldn't want the job that way."

Finley, Chairman Willard Smith and Supervisor John Mitchell voted Friday to order reinstatement of Mrs. Spangler and Mrs. Lyons, indicating they believed Snow should be replaced because of the "constant turmoil" in the department—part of which Snow blamed on Mrs. Spangler's alleged "undermining" of him.

Farms Menaced By Rising Water

BERKELEY. (AP)—San Joaquin valley's rising water table threatens the most serious damage to crops from such a cause in 24 years. W. W. Weir, drainage engineer, said here today in warning farmers to "ease up" on emergency flooding of irrigation ditches.

Placentia Estate In Probate Court

Probate of the will of the late Mrs. Mattie Edwards of Placentia, who left a $10,000 estate to two children was asked today in a superior court petition.

Philippine Volcano Terrorizes Town

MANILA. (AP)—The Mayon volcano rumbled like thunder today, sending pillars of flame and smoke from its crater and terrorizing the people of Albay province as ashes began falling throughout the region.

AFL Head Claims CIO-Russ Alliance

CLEVELAND. (AP)—William Green declared today "the communist regime in Russia has told CIO representatives: 'you are our hope in America.'"

Administration Of Estate Started

Letters of administration in the $5000 estate of Henry Freese of Anaheim, who died May 4, were asked today in a superior court petition by his daughter and sole heir, Mrs. Anna Allen of Glendale. The estate, she said, consists of $1400 in cash and a residence at 214 Kroeger street, Anaheim.

First Nominations Made In The Journal Search for Courtesy

Eight persons were nominated up to noon today in the Journal Courtesy and Efficiency contest, winners of which will be awarded valuable vacation trips and merchandise prizes.

The contest is being conducted to find the eight most courteous and efficient employees in the county. If the persons you would like to see win the contest are not among those listed today, be sure to fill out the nominating blank. Particulars and the nominating blank appear on page 6 of today's Journal.

The contest is open to any person employed in Orange county and having direct contact with the public, provided this person is not the owner or manager of a business, or is not employed by The Journal. Several nominations were disqualified today, owing to the fact the persons named were not employed in some firm. The nominees MUST be in direct contact with the public.

Among those having the honor of being the first group nominated in the big eight prize Courtesy and Efficiency contest are:

CHARLOTTE BACON, employed at the Owl Drug company who was nominated by Mrs. Ray Squires, general delivery, El Modena.

DAN CLIFFORD COCRAFT, Buick garage, Fifth and Spurgeon, nominated by Mrs. Nellie Cocraft, 1030 W. Highland.

LEHMAN GERKIN, employed at the Safeway store, El Portal and Main streets, nominated by Mrs. E. J. Rowland, 520 Virginia street.

JAMES VALENTINE, postoffice carrier, nominated by Mrs. Harold Brown, 2038 N. Ross.

LESTER PEARL, 805 S. Sycamore street, guard at the First National bank in Santa Ana, nominated by Ruth E. Weger.

MISS VERA GOODWIN, secretary at the First Methodist church, nominated by Mrs. John W. McCormack, 112 Church.

MONOPOLIES TWO FREED TO BE PROBED IN KIDNAPING

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The senate judiciary committee approved today a broad investigation into monopolistic trends in industry and finance.

The inquiry would be made by a committee composed of six members of congress and five representatives of federal agencies. A fund of $500,000 would be authorized for costs.

C. R. BROWN GOES TO TRIAL

Trial of Charles R. Brown, charged with negligent homicide and hit-run driving in the death of an elderly pedestrian last Aug. 21, began today before a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court.

George I. Froome, driver of a car which passed the scene of the accident, told from the witness stand today of seeing James W. Goss, the pedestrian, knocked down by a "swerving brown car" which did not stop. The accident occurred on Manchester avenue near Buena Park.

Slayer Ends Life When Capture Near

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—Concetto (Tony) Ziccone, 44, hunted since last Wednesday for slaying one man and wounding another at a dog race track, killed himself rather than surrender, District Attorney Anthony Brazil reported.

U. S. Control Of All Wires Urged

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Willard Bliss, a spokesman for a CIO union of communications companies employees, suggested to a senate committee today that the government take over telegraph companies and operate them as part of the postal service.

TWO FREED IN KIDNAPING

PRINCETON, Fla. (AP)—M. F. Braxton and his son, James, held by federal agents since last Wednesday in connection with the kidnaping of James Bailey Cash, Jr., were released today after their wives called at the federal bureau of investigation to plead for their freedom.

The women, almost hysterical, emerged from the FBI office reporting the agents refused to let them see their husbands or give them any word, but the unemployed carpenter and his fisherman son turned up here a short time later.

Bride, 13, Husband Nabbed In Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers Stolze, aged 22 and 13 respectively, were in the Tacoma city jail today for the second time within 10 days, held for investigation while their honeymoon remained in abeyance.

G. E. Myrick, Los Angeles railroad man who identified himself as an uncle of the girl, made a complaint against the couple here, informing police the girl had been spirited from her home in Bakersfield, Calif., adding that searchers were still hunting her body in a river there after finding her clothing on a bank.

SPANISH OFFICERS ARRESTED

HENDAYE, France. (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco was reported today to have ordered severe measures to avoid open conflict between his Spanish insurgent officers and their Blackshirt Italian allies.

It was said to have left the eastern war front, where his drive on Valencia was virtually halted by government militiamen, to hold a hurried council of war at Burgos, seat of the insurgent government.

The meeting was called, insurgent sources said, following fights between insurgent and Italian officers, the most serious taking place at Malaga and Zaragoza.

These sources said Franco had ordered the arrest of a number of his officers as an indication of his continued friendship and cooperation with Italy, which has been one of his heaviest backers in the Civil war.

(Travelers reaching Gibraltar quoted insurgent officers as expressing resentment at "the dictatorial attitude" of the Italian officers and expressing fears that the Italians and Germans intended to maintain a military hold on the country when the war ends.)

EXECUTIONS REPORTED

GIBRALTAR. (AP)—Week-end executions and hurried burials at La Linea, just north of Gibraltar, and strict military vigilance throughout a southern insurgent Spain were reported today by travelers reaching Gibraltar.

There was unusual activity at La Linea's cemetery. Townspeople said executions took place over the week-end but they were unable, or afraid to say, how many were before the firing squad.

The hurried burials were taken as confirmation of guarded stories of stringent repressive measures following an outbreak of Spanish insurgent resentment against Italian and German officers in Generalissimo Franco's service.

BRITISH SHIP BOMBED

MADRID. (AP)—Insurgent warplanes left 21 persons dead, 100 wounded and another British ship ablaze in a fierce foray today over Alicante, 75 miles south of Valencia on the Eastern Mediterranean coast.

The dead included three British members of the crew of the 577-ton British freighter St. Winifred, which was damaged in an earlier bombing of Alicante May 21. Others killed were nine women, a child and two Alicante stevedores.

Trial Of Damage Action Under Way

Trial of a $35,000 damage suit based on a South Main street street auto crash in 1937 started today before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

Russell B. Goetting, who asks $35,000 damages, and his wife, Pauline, who asks $26,000, are suing Olyn Ross Frances, whose car was involved in the collision with an auto driven by Goetting in which the couple was injured. The accident occurred near Delhi March 14, 1937.

TRAIN HITS BUS; SEVEN DIE

BERLIN. (AP)—Seven excursionists from Stuttgart were killed and eight hurt today when their bus was hit by a train at a grade crossing near Fussen, Bavaria.

She Is Happy, But Jurors In Case Are Not

Constance Bennett

STAR WINS POGANY SUIT

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Constance Bennett does not have to pay Willy Pogany for the portrait he painted of her.

Today, Superior Judge Jess E. Stephens took the controversy out of the hands of the jury, instructing it to bring in a verdict for the actress.

He made this ruling, he explained, on the ground that Pogany had agreed to paint the picture for $500 and, therefore, if he had cause for action at all, it belonged in municipal court.

Miss Bennett smiled broadly when she heard the instruction, but the jurors did not smile. They filed out of the courtroom and gathered around Pogany, telling him how sorry they were they had not been given a chance to bring in a verdict in his favor.

Pogany claimed Miss Bennett promised him $3500 for the picture. After several alterations were made, she refused to accept the oil because, she testified, Pogany made her thigh too large, her eyes too bulgy, her shoulders too round and her mouth had an unnecessary "curlicue."

Rail Job Insurance Declared Unfair

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Charles D. Young, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, told a senate committee today the railroad unemployment insurance bill would be unfair to long-service employees.

He explained the first employees to benefit by such a system would be those of one or two years' service.

Oil Land Title To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Two members of the house naval affairs committee were directed today to investigate the title of California oil lands involved in negotiations conducted by Albert B. Fall when he was secretary of interior.

Inventor Dies in His Pasadena Home

PASADENA. (AP)—Death has ended the scientific research of Dr. Carl Clapp Thomas, inventor, author and former teacher of engineering at five universities.

The 66-year-old authority on steam and gas controls died of a heart attack yesterday at his home.

U. S. Spends in 11 Months 7 Billions

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The treasury said today its spending in the fiscal year which began last July 1 has passed $7,000,000,000.

With less than a month of the year remaining, however, expenditures, including debt retirement, were $800,000,000 below the amount budgeted for the complete 12 months.

Freud In London

LONDON. (AP)—Dr. Sigmund Freud, 82, said and white-whiskered, arrived in London today from Nazi Vienna in search of "peace and quiet."

Japanese Planes Bomb Hospital; Hundreds Killed

CANTON, China. (AP)—Japanese warplanes rained bombs on this terrorized city in two punishing raids today and Chinese officials estimated the toll of dead or wounded at 1500.

Over 100 bombs were dropped in two raids, at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m., and according to official estimates at least 1000 buildings were destroyed.

One bomb scored a direct hit on the French-owned Doumer hospital, killing two Chinese patients and wounding a French surgeon and many Chinese. One side of the building was blown out. (The French ambassador at Tokyo protested the bombing.)

The new raids lifted to 6000 authoritative estimates of dead and wounded since May 28, when Japan began a crushing series of raids on this south China metropolis, through which a large part of China's war supplies from abroad enter. It was the tenth successive day Canton or its environs had been bombed.

Heavy toll was taken today by bombs which plunged into the houseboat community on the Pearl river bridge.

BARRICADES ERECTED

French authorities rushed French colonial infantry from their concession on Shamen island to Doumer hospital, around which barricades were erected.

Corpses were strewn over the wide MacAdam road in front of the hospital as buildings nearby were hit.

Forty-five bodies were laid in the street outside a Red Cross unit next door to the hospital.

Others were placed outside the nearby Y. M. C. A. building where Edward H. Lockwood of Indiana, secretary, narrowly escaped injury.

Other bombs fell among the tightly-packed sampans in the river, creating terrible havoc.

BRITISH PROTEST

British Consul A. P. Blunt telephoned to the Japanese consul general in Hongkong against the raiders flying over the foreign quarter on Shamen island.

No bombs were dropped in the foreign settlement, but the planes were said to have released numerous bombs over the settlement in order to hit nearby buildings.

(A Hongkong dispatch said between 40 and 50 planes took part in two raids today, directing their attack chiefly at government buildings, railway stations and electric power plants.)

(More than 1500 persons have been killed and 2500 wounded, according to official estimates, since the Japanese started their attacks ten days ago.)

Kostelanetz, Pons Honeymoon in East

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Opera Star Lily Pons and Conductor Andre Kostelanetz let the world know today that they are spending their honeymoon in this West Virginia community.

At a cottage here the couple posed for photographs and admitted this was the "unannounced destination" for which they left after last week's ceremony in New York, Conn.

PARROT FEVER SUSPECTED

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—Parrot fever was believed responsible today for the death of Pernella Cline. Her physician has sent her four parakeets to the University of California hotel at San Francisco for fever tests.

'I WAS CHAMPEEN,' says George Green to his visitors at Laguna Honda home in San Francisco. "champeen welterweight." As Young Corbett he fought Mysterious Billy Smith at Carson City, Nev. on March 17, 1897, on the same card that saw James J. "Gentleman Jim" Corbett mix with Bob Fitzsimmons. The world's "champeen welterweight" is now nearing 70 years.

New Deal Faces Acid Test as 400,000 Iowans Go to Polls Today

WASHINGTON'S ENDORSEMENT MAY BE KEY

DES MOINES, Ia. (P)—Senator Guy M. Gillette's record on New Deal legislation was undergoing the acid test today before an estimated 150,000 or more Democratic primary voters in 2447 Iowa precinct polling places.

Seeking party nomination to the senator's seat in congress are four other candidates, including Representative Otha D. Wearin.

The Republican senatorial battle is a two-way affair, with Gillette as the favorite of the party and Representative Lloyd Thurston the competitors.

Up for political appraisal as factors in the candidacy of Gillette and Wearin are:

1. The 1933 value of a platform of unqualified New Deal support vs. the retention of the right of individual judgment on each New Deal proposal.

2. The effect on WPA voters of the endorsement of Wearin by WPA chief, Harry L. Hopkins.

3. The value of an inferential endorsement by James Roosevelt in his mention of "my friend Wearin" in a telegram.

The polls opened at 7 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m. Predictions by the state central committee chairmen forecast a primary total somewhat above the 400,000 mark.

Democratic Chairman E. H. Birmingham said he expected 175,000 persons would vote in his party's primary. Republican Chairman Carl Cook predicted G. O. P. candidates would poll "at least as many votes as two years ago," when top-of-the-ticket candidates rolled up a 260,000 vote volume.

Should the top candidate in the Democratic senatorial race fail to get 35 per cent of the total vote today, the question would go to the state convention for final decision.

Besides Hopkins and Roosevelt, leading names connected with the Wearin cause during the campaign were United States District Attorney E. C. Dunn and State Treasurer Leo J. Wegman.

Wearin has insisted throughout the campaign that his senatorial aspirations have the White House blessing.

The Democratic state ticket had burned all its bridges, leaving the Democrats with an embarrassing situation at the top of their ticket in the fall campaign.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, yesterday stepped into the Iowa picture with a telegraphic endorsement of Senator Gillette.

Should Wearin win, Governor Kraschel's outspoken primary opposition to his candidacy would leave the Democrats with an embarrassing situation at the top of their ticket in the fall campaign.

Two World Flying Records Broken By German Airmen

BERLIN. (P)—German airmen today bettered two world flying records.

Maj.-Gen. Ernst Udet, rated Germany's foremost flyer, in a Heinkel one-seater plane, covered 100 kilometers (62.1 miles) at 634.37 kilometers (393.94 miles) an hour. The listed record, 554.357 kilometers (344.46 miles) an hour, was made by Furio Nicolot of Italy, Dec. 5, 1937.

A four-motored Junkers plane with a payload of 5000 kilograms (11,023 pounds) reached an altitude of 9316 meters (30,555 feet), bettering the listed mark of 8980 meters (29,462 feet) set by Maj. Andrei Youmacheff of Soviet Russia Oct. 28, 1936.

Nomination papers for Congressman Harry R. Sheppard, bearing signatures of 20 Orange county residents, were filed today with County Clerk B. J. Smith.

Sheppard petitions, to put the congressman on the Aug. 30 primary ballot, will be circulated in Riverside and San Bernardino counties also, and will be filed with county clerks there to be sent to Sacramento for recording along with Orange county's. Signatures were obtained here by Herbert F. Kenny, campaign manager for Sheppard in 1936.

Signers of the local petition were B. Z. McKinney of Santa Ana, chairman of the Democratic central committee, H. C. Head, Ray Adkinson, Aaron Buchheim of Doheny Park, D. W. Huston and Mayor M. M. Lightning Kills 20 at Wedding

MANILA. (P)—More than 20 persons were burned to death today when lightning struck two adjoining houses in which a wedding party was in progress in the village of Malamec, La Union province. A survivor said the houses quickly engulfed in flames.

Flashes of Life By the Associated Press

HARD-BOILED EVANSVILLE, Ind.—A man walked into city court and announced: "My name is Egg, and I'm bad and I want to be sent to prison."

Judge Marion J. Rice accommodated Wilfred E. Egg, 29, of Jasper, by giving him a 60-day sentence at the state penal farm on a charge of intoxication.

"Boy, I feel like a good egg now," Egg said.

BUSY NEW YORK.—Blind since he was 15, Joseph Caronia, 31, orchestra leader, will receive a bachelor of science degree cum laude from St. John's university Tuesday.

Caronia, who organized a professional orchestra while in school, can play the piano, banjo, saxophone, guitar and mandolin.

In his spare time he studies law. He wants to enter politics.

RED-HOT REMINISCENCE SEATTLE.—When the fire company arrived at the home of Stephen Smith the conversation ran something like this:

"Hello Steve, where've you been all this time? Do you remember the time—?"

And from Steve, a member of the fire company 16 years, who retired three years ago and hadn't visited with the boys since:

"Yeh, yeh, I remember, I sure do, but say fellows will you hurry and put out that fire on my roof?"

The fellows did.

QUARANTINE OKLAHOMA CITY.—Candidate Ernest G. Albright's campaign card may be a boon to housewives, but as far as other candidates are concerned you can drop the "n."

The card, with two holes for tacking on front doors, reads:

"Notice! Candidates and political workers, do not disturb. You are welcome to your opinion. We are reserving ours. Good luck—we hope everyone wins."

And on the reverse side: "Compliments of Ernest G. Albright, Democrat, for congress."

HONESTY REWARDED? MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—Sixty-six-year-old J. J. Smith found a wallet containing $618.

Five minutes after he appeared at state police headquarters with it the owner arrived to report the loss.

He gave Smith $5.

Edsel Ford Helps Glider Pilot Down On His Estate

DETROIT. (P)—Elmer Zook, looking for a place to land his glider when he saw lake St. Clair ahead, picked the expansive lawn of a large estate.

The owner hurried over to question the 21-year-old Zook about his unceremonious visit, then helped him dismantle his craft. He offered to restore it in his garage and give the youth

Adjournment of Congress This Week-end Held Possible

AGREEMENT ON WAGE BILL IS KEY TO PLAN

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congressional leaders discussed with President Roosevelt today the chances of adjourning congress this week-end and agree it could be done if there were an early agreement on the wage-hour bill. Representative Rayburn of Texas, the house Democratic leader, said the President was told that progress had been made with the wage-hour measure by the committee of senators and representatives drafting a compromise bill. He added that the last major bill of the session, a $300,000,000 deficiency measure, would be reported to the house tomorrow and probably would be passed Wednesday.

Others at the regular weekly conference were Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead. Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the senate majority leader, went home Saturday on a week-end visit. At the capital, Chairman Thomas (D., Utah) of the senate labor committee suggested the wage-hour conference committee approve a compromise giving a board or other federal agency wide latitude in enforcing wage scales on interstate industry. Under Thomas' proposal, it would be the duty of the board to put into effect a minimum of 40 cents an hour for most industries within three years. It would have the power to exempt those industries which would have to reduce employment because of such a minimum.

There would be no periodic advances in wage minima as provided in the house bill, Thomas explained. Senator Borah (R., Idaho), another of the senate conferees, said he favored a modified version of the house bill. Under his proposal, a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour would become effective immediately. This would be advanced to 30 cents next year, but thereafter the increase would be only two or three cents an hour a year until 40 cents an hour was reached.

In an effort to expedite action, the conference committee separated into house and senate groups. Members said each group would try to eliminate some of the proposals advanced.

Lottery Trial Is Postponed Again

Trial of Police Chief Floyd Howard of Santa Ana and five other defendants on charges of conspiracy to smuggle lottery tickets from Mexico had been continued again today. Set for June 21, the trial in Los Angeles federal court has been continued indefinitely at the request of the United States district attorney's office, and will be heard at the next term of court, sometime this summer.

Howard, his brother-in-law, Ernest Winbiger, and six other defendants were indicted by the federal grand jury early this year after more than a year of investigation of sweepstakes tickets based on the 1934 Santa Anita Christmas day race.

Mrs. Lula Moss Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Lula Moss, 64, of 1322 West Fourth street, died in a local hospital Sunday, following a three-week illness. She was a nurse and had lived in Santa Ana for 26 years. She was born in England, and was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Moss is survived by a sister, Mrs. W. A. Bagby of this city, and a brother, John N. Tate of Blythe. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow from the Smith and Tutill chapel, with interment following in Fairhaven cemetery.

Manning Estate Filed For Probate

Letters of administration in the estate of William Manning, Santa Ana restaurant proprietor, were asked today in a superior court petition by the widow, Mrs. Janice Manning.

Mr. Manning, who died May 3, left a restaurant lease and fixtures on Bush street in addition to household belongings, Mrs. Manning said. The estate was estimated at less than $10,000.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Another article dealing with the operation of the gross income tax law will appear in this column either tomorrow or Wednesday. Many people are making inquiries concerning the value of such a tax as a revenue raising measure. In the articles being presented there isn't any guess-work about what it will do, the actual results which have been obtained by the Territory of Hawaii are being given.

Next Saturday at 2 p. m. in Pilgrimage hall, Riverside, the Nineteenth congressional district Townsend convention will be held. The purpose will be to decide whether the Townsends will have a candidate for congressman of their own on the Townsend party ticket if it qualifies as a political party, or whether an endorsement shall be given to the party for the office who is affiliated with some other political party. This is an important meeting and one to which every club in the district should send accredited delegates. Each club will be allowed delegates in proportion to its paid membership. One delegate for the first 50 members or under and an additional delegate for each additional 50 members. If your club is not meeting this week then call a special meeting to elect delegates and alternates. Members of each group would write credentials signed by both the club president and secretary, stating whether they are a delegate or an alternate. This convention must be held now as the closing date for candidates to file for political office is on June 25th. The Townsends of the district must therefore decide on their political program before that date so that congressional candidates will know what to do. Don't forget to elect your delegates and provide them with credentials before next Saturday.

Today is the last day for changing your political affiliation to that of the Townsend party in time to help it qualify for a place on the ballot in the August primary election. The county clerk's office books used for that purpose will be closed tonight. If you want to help make the Townsend party a reality you'll have to hurry. The impression seems to exist among the Townsend leaders over the state that the party will qualify by the change of political affiliation method. The county clerk has until June 16 to file with the secretary of state the names and addresses of voters who have affiliated themselves with the Townsend party.

M. D. Sanders writes that La Habra Club No. 1 is meeting tonight at 7:30 in the Masonic hall on Central avenue for a business meeting. Last Monday night the club enjoyed a pot-luck dinner with a jolly crowd present. Sanders says that Daniel Wolford and H. J. Sherman have done valuable work as members of his club for the Townsend party. He also tells of new members having recently been added to the club.

"Uncle Remus," of radio fame will give one of his entertainments at Santa Ana Townsend hall of 609 West Fourth street, 8 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Minnie Hope, secretary of Townsend hall administration board, makes the announcement and says an admission charge of 10 cents will be made. The benefits are to be used to help maintain Townsend hall. Uncle Remus, as he is known in connection with his radio program, is a Townsends. He appeared before a Santa Ana Townsend audience once before in a program in the Townsend theater. Make your plans to be present Wednesday evening.

Tustin Club No. 1 will honor the members of its club this evening with a pot-luck dinner who are having birthdays during the month of June. The group will assemble around the tables at 6:30 o'clock in the Townsend club building located at West Main and C streets. Afterwards a regular business meeting will be conducted by D. L. Thomas, president. Thomas says that Mrs. A. F. Hibbet has consented to act as publicity program chairman in Laguna Beach. Mrs. Hibbet has moved to Santa Ana. Mrs. Hibbet is a splendid correspondent and the writer is glad to know that she will again report her club happenings.

Santa Ana Club No. 12 is meeting at 7:30 this evening in the Community building located on the Diamond school grounds in Santa Ana Gardens. J. I. Barber will preside and among the other things to be enjoyed will be the listening to the Townsend radio program, originating in Los Angeles. This program can be heard over KJH of Los Angeles, and KVOE of Santa Ana, from 8:30 to 8:45 each Monday evening.

Santa Ana Club No. 2 is also planning to listen in on the Townsend radio program tonight. This club will meet in Townsend hall on West Fourth street at 7:30 this evening for a business session. Pope R. Long will preside.

100 MORE ARE REQUIRED IN CONCERT DRIVE

With 100 subscriptions still needed to reach the 1000-membership quota of the Orange County Concert Series, deadline for signing up was extended for the second time today.

Scheduled to end last Saturday, the drive was continued until the end of this week, although concert series officials expected to reach the quota by Wednesday.

Sixty new subscriptions were brought in from Anaheim and 30 each from Orange and Fullerton in a brisk week-end campaign, but these fell just over 100 short of putting the drive "over the top."

Series officials are stressing speed in winding up the campaign, because Ezio Pinza, Metropolitan opera star selected for the opening concert, cannot definitely be signed until the series has pledged 100 members.

SALES TAX CASE DROPPED

Members of Orange Shrine Club Ask Convoy to L. A.

Santa Ana was reminded today that the Shrine convention at Los Angeles is underway, when several members of the county Shrine club called at Sheriff Logan Jackson's office aboard one of the oldest cars in the county asking Jackson for a convoy to Los Angeles.

The car was uniquely decorated with a bed of flowers growing in actual soil and a number of household articles strapped to the side of the machine.

Driver of the car was Will Howell, now residing at Silverado, who is a former member of Za-Ca-Zig temple, Des Moines, with him were Bob Robinson, past president of the Orange county Shrine club, R. E. Stanford, John Gilmore and Henry Myer. The car and its decorations drew friendly smiles from the hundreds of motorists who saw it en route on its epochal trip from "Des Moines to Los Angeles."

Laguna Woman's Husband to Be Freed From British Jail

Prayers of Mrs. Sally Keeler of Laguna Beach for the safe return of her husband from a Scotland jail will be answered, The Journal learned today—but first he must finish serving a 21-day sentence imposed for having stowed away.

Addison Starr Keeler and three companions who fought with leftist armies in Spain will not be sent back to Gibraltar, from where they fled as stowaways on a British ship, the British government told the state department today.

The four men were arrested and jailed as stowaways in Scotland, and ordinarily they would be sent back to Gibraltar and thence probably back into Spain as prisoners. The state department asked their release, partly on Mrs. Keeler's plea.

H. N. White Estate In Probate Court

Letters of administration in the $25,600 estate of H. N. White, Anaheim hardware store owner, were asked today in a superior court petition by his son, Stewart N. White, Orange football coach.

The estate, the son said, consists of $14,000 in stocks, a $10,000 stock of hardware, cash and personal effects.

Heirs to the estate are the widow, who lives in Anaheim, the petitioner, and three daughters, Ruth White of Los Angeles, Mabel Walker of Anaheim and Mary Alice Shawhan of Anaheim.

HIGH-LOW GOLF PLAY REACHES SEMI-FINALS

Santa Ana Country club's annual high-low golf tournament had reached the semi-finals today. Shooting their way through the quarter-finals over the Newport boulevard course last week, Charles Denio and Ken Harbert defeated W. H. Spurgeon, Jr., and Herbert L. Miller; H. A. (Mickey) Walker and Dr. J. B. Price d. Jack Robinson and C. P. Boyer; Dick Ewert and Riley Huber d. George Parker and William Penn; F. E. Farnsworth and R. C. McMillen d. C. D. Holmes and C. D. Holmes, Jr.

In Saturday's low-ball play, Jack Robertson and C. P. Boyer won with a score of 72-5-67, with William Jeffrey and Ben Osterman, 78-8-70, and A. W. Robinson and Ernie Robins, 78-9-70, were runners-up.

Dr. C. V. Doty and Mrs. Doty, carding a 92-18-74, won mixed foursome play, with Mrs. E. H. Guthrie and Paul Hall, 94-18-76, and Mrs. Harry Bakre and L. M. Forney, 90-13-77, runners-up.

$25,296 Estate

L. W. Evans, Orange rancher who died April 28, left an estate worth $25,296. Inheritance Tax Appraiser James E. Utt reported today. Included in Utt's inventory were stocks and a 16-acre ranch valued at $16,500.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By MILLARD BROWNE

Weekly Parade

A large Mexican family, tapered in age from 50 to 2, sits at a drug store fountain sipping on milk and lapping at ice cream cones. . . . A young couple trips lightly down the street, gazes and giggles when it passes a jeweler's window. . . . Little Percival, tired and soured, drags along behind Mama, wishing she'd get through with her shopping so they could get on to the show. . . .

These people and 15,000 others made up the weekly Fourth street parade in the greatest "Saturday night town" in Southern California last Saturday. It was a typical crowd, and typically it all went away by 9:15.

The crowd (police guess 15,000) was slightly smaller than average, since there wasn't anything special to draw people to town—except market sales and coming graduations. On a good holiday week-end, the Saturday night parade will run closer to 20,000.

Described in rough averages, here's the composite Saturday nighter: "It's a family, probably a country or small town family from somewhere in the county. It comes to Santa Ana Saturday because of the bargains. And it stays over into the evening."

Between 6 and 7 o'clock, it drives down Fourth street and finds a parking place. Then it goes on a shopping tour, usually buys knick-knacks and small luxury items (most of the heavy food shopping is done by this time).

When the shopping tour is over, about 8 o'clock, it either goes to the show or comes back to the car, where it sits and thrills at seeing all the people. . . . Or while the composite family gets out of the car, goes to a drug store or soda fountain to have soft drinks. By 9 o'clock, when the stores close, the family has left for home, unless it went to the show.

Week after week it happens, and it probably always will, because every Saturday night some people come in to see the crowds, and they make up part of the crowd for other people to come and see.

Most expert crowd watchers are the policemen who stand on the corners and direct traffic. They know who's in town, where they came from, and why they came. They'll tell you the biggest drawing card is a combination of two things: Super bargains at the super markets, and windows that are attractive to window-shoppers.

A big percentage of the crowd spends the entire Saturday evening just look-shopping, and the merchants seem to cooperate by constantly changing their displays. Despite the window-shopping, though, average Saturday night family spends around $10 in Santa Ana.

Biggest Saturday night since Christmas, which always is big, was before Mother's Day. Packages that night all were big ones, while last week's Memorial Day crowd bought small packages.

Crowds always are heaviest from 7:30 to 8:30; there's a short rush at 9 p. m., but by 9:10 the crowd has been cut in half, and by midnight there's hardly a soul on the street. Police have real traffic troubles about 8:30 when Pacific Electric pulls its longest freight train down Fourth street (during sugar-beet season the train carries from six to 12 cars).

Movies all get typical Saturday night crowds, too. They're mostly families who go to the show between 7 and 8 p. m. when the shopping's done. Barber and beauty shop business is less likely to be typical, because many of the patrons are younger folks who are getting dressed up for late dates.

Chief characteristic of Saturday nighters is their leisurely attitude. None are in such a hurry as they are during the day, and even the drivers will give right-of-way to pedestrians, dogs or any other obstruction.

Most aggravating sight to the crowd is a baby who's been locked in a car and starts crying. There are comparatively few drunks to mar the scene, since the obnoxious ones usually don't get started until after their drinking so early, and the ones who are drunk ordinarily are bums who get hustled off to jail before they become troublesome.

It's been a long time since a pickpocket was at work on Fourth street, but shoplifting is a fairly common occurrence.

7500 Turn Out for Costa Mesa Carnival of Scarecrows

GROTESQUE FIGURES LINE TOWN'S STREET

COSTA MESA.—You'd have had the creeping jitters in Costa Mesa Saturday night—if you were a self-respecting crow, seagull or sparrow.

But if you weren't equipped with feathers and had only a gas-company bill instead of a bird's beak, you'd have stomped around in a square dance, gawked at the grotesque scarecrows ever to leer, and had a generally swell time.

7500 ATTEND
A hillbilly orchestra whined from atop a truck. . . . an eight-year-old won five gallons of gas and wondered what to do with it. . . . The crowd of 7500 persons, off and on—who used to remember Costa Mesa as a wide place in the road.

The biggest crowd in the town's history gazed at a row of 100 grotesque figures made from light bulbs, stovepipes, nails, oil cans and broomsticks nailed, soldered, glued and sewed together to throw a deadly fear into crows, drunks and persons with touchy nerves.

EXPECTATIONS SURPASSED
Then the throng trickled across Boulevard park to cavort in the street to obtain music and hope for merchandise prizes ranging from a beauty treatment to 300 pounds of ice.

The scarecrows surpassed all expectations. The Journal's big silver sweepstakes cup rested to-day on the Townsend club's mantle, for a double-barreled representation of what Townsends say their plan will do.

An elderly, stuffed gentleman, in cowboy hat and bristly whiskers, stood thumping a prostrate figure labeled "Old Man Depression." The old man's club was labeled "H. R. 4199" (congressional bill written around the pension plan.) W. Carl Crafts built the winning entry.

A huge, beautiful Japanese figure in a kimono, built by Setsuko Hirata, won first place in the individual adult division.

"CONSTANT" WINS
Bill Ponting, Costa Mesa's constant, won first honors for a characteristically "Bill" scarecrow. Bill himself—it was a scarecrow of him, built by the Hi-Way garage. A mammoth overalls scarecrow with gun and club, and a tin star labeled "Little Bill" shining over a thickish watch chain.

Neil Murbarger, enterprising editor of the Globe-Herald, champion of commerce secretary and general factotum, grinned proudly at her paper's entry—a buck-toothed newboy with a sheaf of Globe-Heralds under his arm.

Costa Mesa's famed "liberals" got in their share of propaganda. Two anti-Fascist exhibits. A big board swastika, with snakes' heads on the arms, was labeled "Scarecrow de Europa," and another titled "The World and Mussolini" was a big globe with arms thumping his nose.

LIST OF AWARDS
Complete results in the various divisions:

Best entry by a business establishment—Red and White store, first; Stuart Price, second; Costa Mesa Postoffice, third; Costa Mesa Ice Delivery, fourth.

Best lady scarecrow—Gibson Dairy, first; Jean's Beauty salon, second; Morris Crawley, third.

Best entry by an adult organization—Townsend club No. 3 (sweepstakes winner).

Best entry by an organization under high school age—Cub Scout den No. 1, first; Boy Scout troop No. 14, second.

Best scarecrow by an individual adult—Selma Crane, first; Neil Murbarger, second; Jane Elin, third; Mrs. N. O. Mellott, fourth.

Best group of two or more figures—Flinn-Bell Hardware store.

Most unique scarecrows of materials other than clothes and padding—Opp's Gourd Alley, first; TeWinkle Hardware, second; W. Carl Crafts, third.

Best scarecrow by an individual boy or girl—Buddy Shaver, first; Doreen Fleishower, second.

Raggest scarecrow—Mrs. J. A. Meiser, first.

MERCHANDISE AWARDED
Judges in the carnival were Assemblyman Clyde Watson, Mayor Harry Williamson of Newport Beach, Mrs. Harry Williamson, president of the Newport Business and Professional Women's club, and Miss Lila Davis, representing the Newport chamber of commerce.

Winners of merchandise awards during the evening dance: John Jones, Mrs. Harry Burdick, J. W. Shaver, Alfred Crane, Robert Beach, Mrs. Myrtle Schilling, Roland Nuremburg, Betty Williams, Joan Wilcox, Nell Murbarger, Joe Saragosa, Dallas D. Wells and J. E. Beardsley.

Entertainment was presented by the Costa Mesa Hillbillys, including Jasper Vagar, Frank Phillips and Magnus and Myron Tait, with Karl Burdick calling the square dance numbers; vocal and instrumental numbers by the Costa Mesa Texas cowgirls, Henrietta and Serena Stevens, assisted by their brother, Willis Stevens; singing music by Johnny Cogle, Balboa, and band music by the Phillips Crusaders of Santa Ana.

meeting this morning with representatives for next week commencing June 12, the international officers-elect will hold daily meetings.

Woman Faints as Scarecrow Falls in Her Front Door

COSTA MESA.—One Costa Mesa woman, who must go unnamed, isn't quite sure whether she approves of scarecrow contests.

Two bright young boys in the Fairview district put together a fancy scarecrow for the contest. On the way to town they thought they'd have some fun.

They climbed the lady's porch, propped Mr. Scarecrow up next to the door, rang the bell, and ran.

The lady opened the door. The scarecrow fell in, clattering. She fainted.

U. S. WAR-LIKE SPIRIT DRAWS CHURCH'S FEAR

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—The California conference of evangelical churches condemned what it called the increasing sentiment favoring militarism in the United States at its annual four-day meeting closing here last night.

In the final session, the conference adopted a resolution urging "our young men to register with the general secretary of Christian education as conscientious objectors."

Other resolutions deplored low standards of sex conduct, lax divorce laws and theories of trial or companionate marriage. A resolution urging greater Sabbath observance said "when the Sabbath goes, Christianity goes."

Burgi was appointed district superintendent and pastoral assignments were announced as follows:

Anaheim, U. S. Schauer; Burbank, O. D. Wonder; Glendale, E. C. Schneider; Lodi, William Butsch; Long Beach, A. L. Horn; Los Angeles, First church, A. J. Boelter; Los Angeles, Holmenkirk Heights church, G. A. Degenkolb; Los Angeles, Melrose church, Paul C. Neerman; Napa, J. V. Knoll; Ontario, F. A. Zellers; Point Pleasant, P. W. Thomas; Porterville, S. E. Schrader; Sacramento, First church, J. Scheraga; Sacramento, Community church, Francisco W. Boelter; San Bernardino, L. M. Light; San Diego, H. J. Cook; San Francisco, E. L. Weatherwax; Santa Ana, G. G. Schmidt; Torrance, E. W. Matz.

LIFE SAVERS MEET TUESDAY

NEWPORT BEACH.—Frank Crocker, chief of the Newport Beach life saving crew, will play host to representatives of more than 25 Southern California beaches tomorrow at an all-day session of the Public Beach Coordinating Committee.

Definite plans for an emergency rescue setup to work during floods will be discussed by the beach officials, who include chiefs of life-saving crews from Santa Barbara to San Diego.

Crocker, president of the coordinating committee, and Bud Higgins of Huntington Beach, vice-president, are the only Orange county representatives. Crocker said today the beach officials will make a tour of the Newport harbor area.

NEOPORT BOY SCOUT GROUPS REORGANIZED

NEWPORT BEACH.—Dr. Gordon M. Grundy, recently reappointed head of the Newport Harbor Boy Scout committee, has completed organization of the general committee for the 1938-39 fiscal year.

Lights Cut L. A. Traffic Accidents

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Sodium vapor lights at hazardous street intersections in Los Angeles have greatly reduced night-time traffic fatalities at those intersections, Ralph T. Dorsey, traffic engineer, reported today.

Los Angeles is the first city to use this type of lights extensively. Installations were started in 1936, somewhat as an experiment. The city now has the softly glowing yellow lights at 97 intersections.

GARDEN GROVE CLUB SEATS NEW OFFICERS

GARDEN GROVE.—Induction of new officers featured the closing meeting of the Garden Grove Woman's Civic club for the year, held at the clubhouse Friday and opening with a luncheon for which Mrs. A. C. Robbins was chairman of the hostess committee.

G. McCracken was in charge of the installation ceremony using as her theme the language of flowers. Old-fashioned nosegays, the flowers they contained representing qualities necessary to each officer, were presented them during the induction ceremony.

New officers are Mrs. Allen Goddard, president; Mrs. Edward Chaffee, first vice-president; Mrs. E. E. Echols, second vice-president; Mrs. B. W. Wigner, recording secretary; Mrs. C. R. George, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. H. Williams, federation secretary; Mrs. W. O. Broady, treasurer; Miss Mabel Head, curator.

During the business meeting Mrs. P. S. Virgin, Mrs. G. A. Luz and Mrs. A. J. Kelly were elected as new members of the board of directors, the holdover members of which are Mrs. Robbins, Mrs. W. V. Brady and Mrs. G. R. Reymburn. Annual reports were given by officers and chairmen and Messrs. E. E. Echols, George and McCracken reported on the recent state convention at Los Angeles.

A vote of thanks was extended the Junior club for the new clubhouse curtains, following their presentation by Miss Dorothy Lake, retiring president of the Juniors, and a letter of thanks was ordered sent to the Lions club for their efforts in beautifying the clubhouse grounds, including planting of palm trees.

Meetings of the year were announced for the Bible and Booklover's sections. The Bible section to meet for a picnic Tuesday at the Santa Ana home of the teacher, Mrs. Lewis Galt. The booklover's group will visit Bowers museum at 10:30, June 14, and go to Laguna Beach for luncheon and visit to the art gallery. Mrs. McCracken is in charge of arrangements.

Two Join In Hostessing Lovely Party

The spacious living-room of Mrs. Emil Wagner's attractive new home on Bonnie Brae was setting for half a hundred guests Saturday afternoon when she and Mrs. Charles Swanner entertained at a delightful luncheon party together.

The vivid tones of coral and yellow were carried out in every detail of the party, with masses of glorious-hued gladioli about the room, and with dainty bubble-bowls of coralbells, Mexican primroses, and golden coreopsis centering the luncheon tables. The menu, climaxed by smart little caterer's confections, also emphasized the pretty colors, as did tallies and prize-wrappings.

Among the many friends whose gardens contributed to the party's loveliness were Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. C. E. Bressler, Mrs. James L. Allen, Mrs. William Eaves, Mrs. C. R. Couden, Mrs. Urban Plavan, Mrs. David Howell, and Mrs. Ray Lambert.

After Mrs. Wagner, in vivid printed crepe with soft blue chiffon sash, and Mrs. Swanner in apricot crepe with the dubonnet girdle, had greeted their guests, they were welcomed by a group of matrons who kindly assisted the hostesses in checking and seating. These included Mrs. Frederick Durst, Mrs. Arthur May, Mrs. C. R. Couden, Mrs. John Backus, and Mrs. Roy Hall.

Prize-winners, whose packages were topped with dainty sweet-peas in the coral tones from Mrs. J. L. Allen's garden, were Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, Mrs. Harold Nelson, and Mrs. Ernest Winbiger.

Guests of Mrs. Wagner were the Mesdames Earl Abbey, Robert Bartholomew, Dexter Ball, John Backus, George Briggs, Harold Brown, L. Babcock Burns, George Burns, C. E. Bressler, C. R. Couden, Helen Capellan, C. V. Davis, Frederick Dunster, George Dunton, Joseph Dunster, F. E. Earle.

The Mesdames E. F. Elfstrom, Emmett Elliott, William Eaves, F. E. Farnsworth, C. W. Faul, A. G. Flagg, Roy Hall, Sara Johnston Haddon, D. K. Hammond, Edward Hall, David Howell, J. K. Hermon, R. C. Holmes, Loyal King, I. F. Landis, Ray Lambert, Arthur May, Harvey Maxwell.

The Mesdames B. J. MacMullen, Cotton Mathers, Lewis Moulton, Harold Nelson, L. J. Mead, Charles Nussbaumer, George Parker, Urban Plavan, Paul Ragan, Howard Rapp, W. D. Ranney, Stanley Reinhaus, Garland Ross, W. R. Rutan, Anton Segerstrom, George Sattler, Leonard G. Swales, John P. Scripps.

The Mesdames William T. Stearns, Robert Tuthill, John Tesson, Howard Timmons, R. F. Washburn, John Wehly, Theo Winbiger, Ernest Winbiger, R. P. Yeagley, A. N. Zerman, and P. H. Gilmer, all of Santa Ana; Miss Jean Richardson, Mrs. Thompson Hampton Mitchell, Mrs. Floyd Carter, and Mrs. Randall Hood, all of Los Angeles.

FRANDSONS ARE HONORED AT DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Daughters complimented Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Frandson on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary with a delightful dinner party yesterday.

The hostess arranged a long table in the garden of their home at 2041 North Rose street, using a bridal theme with a mass of all-white gladioli, sweetpeas, gypsophila and Queen's lace arranged in tier-fashion to represent a wedding cake. This was topped by a miniature bride and groom standing beneath a silver arch, and around the base was a wreath of smilax and silver leaves.

Mrs. Frandson was presented with a dainty corsage, and both she and Dr. Frandson were presented with a silver wedding book, in which the guests all registered. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daughters were Dr. and Mrs. Frandson and Miss LaVonne Frandson, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Bower, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cayo of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lashy.

Junior Ebell Installs At Luncheon

Completing its most successful year, highlighted by gift of a $300 scholarship loan to the junior college and a substantial gift to the Ebell clubhouse as well as its many enjoyable social affairs and programs, Junior Ebell club of Santa Ana convened Saturday afternoon at the Santa Ana Country club for its annual formal inaugural luncheon.

Presiding over the beautifully decorated tables, arranged in U-shape in the long ballroom of the clubhouse, was Mrs. Albert Harvey, retiring president. At either side of her were seated new and retiring officers and the honored guests, who included Mrs. W. S. Thomson, Ebell president; Mrs. F. C. Rowland, past Ebell president and installing officer, and the Junior's three senior advisors, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. M. B. Wellington, and Mrs. Herbert Miller. Mrs. Davis, retiring chairman of advisors, was particularly honored for her long and faithful service.

Exquisitely fashioned corsages, made by Mrs. James Merigold and Mrs. Hubert Gohres, who were in charge of the elaborate affair, lay at each place at the head table, and at intervals down the tables were crystal vases of snapdragons, galardais, and many other colorful blossoms.

Of principal interest was installation of the new officers by Mrs. Rowland, who officiated with a simple dignity that was most impressive. After a brief farewell talk by Mrs. Harvey, she presented her gavel to Mrs. Rowland, who in turn handed it to Miss Elizabeth Smith, the new president.

New officers with her include Mrs. George Walker, first vice-president; Mrs. Fred Burlew, second vice-president; Mrs. Quentin Matzen, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Stump, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Bacon, censor.

Miss Smith announced that her appointive officers would be Mrs. Harold Harvey, historian; Mrs. Claude Brakelink, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. M. Conklin, section chairman; Mrs. Carleton Smith, publicity chairman; Mrs. E. Lee Smith, membership chairman; Mrs. Perry Davis, courtesy chairman; Mrs. Ralph Cunningham, house chairman; Miss Pat Oliphant, auditor; and Mrs. Bruce Anderson, scholarship chairman.

In conjunction with the annual report of the treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Stroschein, came a brief report of her accomplishments throughout the year. These included Mrs. Robert Guild, Mrs. Stanley Norton, Mrs. Raymond Terry, Mrs. Chester Horton, Mrs. Glenn Mathis, Mrs. Alvin Stauffer, Mrs. James Workman, Mrs. Walter Bacon, Mrs. Thomas Goughgan, Jr., Mrs. A. Walker, Mrs. Thoburn White, and Mrs. Charles McDaniel.

Especially welcomed by Mrs. Harvey was Miss Mary Saffley, a past president no longer affiliated with the Juniors, and Mrs. Chad Harwood, new member.

Following the luncheon concert was played, with Mrs. Merigold and Mrs. Gohres supervising, and at the close of the session, lovely prizes of cologne were presented Mrs. Stroschein, Mrs. Edmund West, and Mrs. Walter Bacon, and at this time Mrs. Guild, as first vice-president, presented Mrs. Harvey with a gift of appreciation from the club, service for eight in her chosen crystal pattern.

There will be no Junior Ebell sessions throughout the summer either general or of sections.

BETTIE LACY FETED ON ANNIVERSARY

Miss Bettie Lacy's sixteenth birthday anniversary was made festive indeed for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lacy, by invited enough of her young friends to make an even sixteen guests for dinner and dancing Saturday night.

To match the honoree's smart electric blue evening gown, blue tapers and flowers were used on the table, and the entire affair was highlighted when guests surprised her with a shower of pretty birthday gifts.

Invited to the pleasant affair were Miss Nancy Cappelan, Miss Patsy Miller, Miss Jean Dowds, Miss Peggy Holloway, Miss Elton Doyle, Miss Doris Cox, Miss Madelyn Swenson, Carl Crist, Horace Stevens, Jr., Bob Marshall, Robert Newcomb, Howard Rapp, Marvin Jacobs, George Calhoun, and Benjie Patton.

FINAL DATE FOR RESERVATIONS AT EBELL TOLD

Reservations for the annual inauguration luncheon of the Ebell club of Santa Ana Valley will not be accepted after Friday evening of this week, it was announced today by the committee in charge of the event, which is one of the year's most important club functions.

The affair is to be held next Monday, June 13 at the clubhouse at 12:30 p. m., and after the installation ceremonies and year's reports, a delightful musical program will be presented by Virginia Card, talented musician. Reservations are to be made by calling the clubhouse.

Guests will be permitted if they are accompanied by members.

HARMONY BRIDGE
Harmony Bridge club will meet tomorrow at 12:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Fred Cole, 618 South Cypress street.

Young Couple Wed In Caprillia

Caprillia de San Antonio near Anaheim was the scene of the lovely afternoon wedding ceremony yesterday at 2 o'clock which united Miss Frances Beryl Crowther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crowther of 1235 South Parson street, in marriage to Thomas Calvin Sawyer, son of Mrs. D. Sawyer of 1700 West Eighth street.

The chapel was beautifully decorated in pink gladioli and pink roses, with lighted white tapers glowing against the floral background. The bride was charmingly gowned in a white crepe dress with a white hat and face veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Maid of honor was Miss Helen Crowther, sister of the bride, who wore a blue lace dress and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Crowther, the bride's mother, wore a blue and white flowered chiffon dress and a pink sweet pea corsage.

Best man was Charles Sawyer, brother of the groom. The Rev. C. D. Hickory of the Christian Missionary Alliance church performed the ceremony. Soft music from the organ was played before and after the ceremony and two solos were sung. The bride was given away by her father.

The bride graduated from the Santa Ana high school and Junior College, and was a member of Moava at the latter institution of learning. The groom is also a graduate of the Santa Ana high school. The young couple have driven to the northern part of the state on a two-week honeymoon trip, and may settle at Reddings, Calif.

THIRTY TABLES ARE IN PLAY AT PARTY

The hilltop home of the Andrew Lykkes was the scene Saturday of a benefit dessert bridge given by the quartet of the American Legion auxiliary, with Mrs. Lykkes, Mrs. Charles Van Wyk, Mrs. Grant Kyle, Mrs. Charles Maag and Miss Ruth Armstrong, the accompanist, and director, as hostesses.

Close to 150 guests were seated at tables placed on the lawn under colorful umbrellas overlooking an unsurpassed view. A delicious dessert was served by the hostess with the assistance of four young members, Miss Phyllis Sandon, Miss Patty Swarthout, Miss Roberta Corcoran and Miss Dorothy Rosenbaum. Tables were decorated with colorful blossoms from the Armstrong and Lykkes gardens.

While several dozen guests merely chatted and enjoyed a pleasant social hour, the majority had a contract bridge session, with a dainty handkerchief being a winning table prize at the 31 tables in play. The lucky prizes of fine linens fell to Mrs. R. W. Tibbets and Mrs. Roy Gowdy.

After the card session Rankin's staged an enjoyable fashion show with Mrs. Lykkes announcing each model and gown through a loud-speaker. Modeling in the event were Madeline Paxton, Betty Timmons, Phyllis Beck, Gwen Griffith, Ethel Coffman, Vecil Hanson and Mrs. Kyle.

The lovely afternoon was closed with several pleasing numbers sung by the quartet.

EBELL GROUP RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

When Ebell's Third Household Economics section had its final meeting of the year Friday in the form of a picnic at Santiago park, it returned to office its leader, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, and its assistant leader, Mrs. A. M. Cox.

Mrs. W. B. Risk was named secretary to take the place of Mrs. R. D. Sutton. Birthday celebrants of June, July, and August, were feted at the luncheon table, and Mrs. J. B. Stewart of Pittsburgh, a former member, was cordially welcomed as a special guest.

Members present were Mrs. E. T. Battey, Mrs. C. F. Bennett, Mrs. A. M. Cox, Mrs. D. F. Cook, Mrs. C. F. Crose, Mrs. W. L. Lehy, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, Mrs. S. T. Preble, Mrs. E. H. Prince, Mrs. W. R. Rankin, Mrs. W. B. Risk, Mrs. F. A. Robinson, Mrs. W. S. Rose, Mrs. R. D. Sutton, and Mrs. J. L. McBride.

BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN BY BROWNBRIDGES

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brownbridge entertained a group of friends for a delightful evening of bridge Saturday at their home, 1414 North Main street. A delicious dessert course was served and the home was decorated with an abundance of spring blooms.

Awards at bridge went to Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sprague. Guests who enjoyed the pleasant evening were Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Skirvin, Mrs. Joseph Metzgar, Mrs. Emily Munro, Mrs. W. B. Williams, and Eugene Treadwell.

SURPRISE PARTY IS PLANNED

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Scouler, 312 North Sycamore street, planned a lovely surprise for their aunt, Mrs. E. B. Mason of Los Angeles, on Saturday night.

Because it was Mrs. Mason's birthday anniversary, they arranged with a group of friends to take everything for a delicious dinner to her home, as well as a shower of lovely handkerchiefs.

In the group were the Scoulers, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Short and Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Bois of Orange, Mrs. Frank Conant and Frances Conant of Hollywood, and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mason and Sandra.

Poets' Corner

The following verses were written by some of our promising young people of the Santa Ana Junior college, and published in "First The Blade" . . . Volume 11, 1938.

"For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself, first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear." ST. MARK, IV:28

THE SUITORS
Bill had such a friendly smile,
Peter's eyes cast spells with art,
Johnnie swept me off my feet,
But bashful Michael won my heart!

ISN'T IT STRANGE?
Isn't it strange that blossoms and rains
And men that butcher and Chicago's trains
And poems of spring and poems of us
Are all to be found in the Omnibus?

JACK GARDNER

CINQUAINS
Some trees
Are witches at Sunset, brewing potions,
Making spells to work mystery
At twelve.

Gray geese
Fly to the south
Of blackbirds sway on the long fence
Near-by.

Bravely
The drifting leaf
Flies with the autumn wind
Only to fall and be trampled
In dirt.

Silver
Clouds hide the moon
In play and try to keep
Silver from painting the dull earth
At night.

Red Clouds
Of smoke hang still
Colored by dancing flames of black
Oil drips.

MARGARET CLINTON

VIGIL
She has sat thus for days and nights,
Soothing the fevered brow with roughened hands
Grown lovely in their act of tenderness;

Hushing the moans and cries in Low and full with pain-laden strength of soul;
Gazing into the haggard face with eyes

Bright and calm with unshed tears
and inward faith.
Does she know? Ah yes, she understands—
The tormented form will be soon at rest.

The fever gone, the cries silenced,
the drawn
Lines of agony smoothed into a quiet repose—
She knows, and sits, watching with loving patience.

She does not weep.
CATHERINE COOPER

GARDENS
Your garden is exciting—
Hibiscus red and bougainvillea,
Intense yellow of goldbird cannas,
And clouds of jacinthea shrubs—
Like a gala festival
Confetti—festooned,
Banks of daffodil and ranunculus,
Dainty hyacinth purpling in plots,
Hydrangea and lavender,
And roses row on row,
Hedges of crimson geranium—
Like a stimulating conception
Labeled color
In impressionistic design.

My garden is modulated 'round
An acacia and a locust tree.
Lantana, cotoneaster in broken
skyline of branches
Join plants and friends' memory
flowers
Which are low notes in my composition.
And at their feet are mottled
jaspers,
And lavender rock from Pala,
Pale marble from Alverson,
And pitted, black boulders
From some old lava flow.
I've cascaded pebbles among the rocks
To simulate a rivulet,
And a weeping mulberry dreams
of singing water there.
The garden will give you rest
And promise of peace.
Won't you come over?

MRS. KAYS IS HOSTESS AT LUNCHEON

On Friday Mrs. W. W. Kays was a gracious hostess to her club, serving luncheon at Daniger's. A low bowl of white pottery holding delicate pink godelias created a pretty effect.

In the absence of Mrs. Ray Couch, Mrs. J. Wright, Mrs. Ben Baker and Mrs. Wayne Tibbs, Mrs. Kays asked Mrs. Richard Paggett, Mrs. George Lippincott, Mrs. Ralph Barker and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell to be her guest substitutes, and gave a guest prize to Mrs. Paggett. High-scorer among the members was Mrs. W. F. Nielsen.

Members present were Mrs. George Cocking, Mrs. Roy Gowdy, Mrs. John H. Turton, Mrs. Nielsen, Mrs. A. W. Sanborn, Mrs. Guy Grigg and Mrs. Earl Lepper.

Supper Party Precedes Ebell Dance

A delightful evening was spent Saturday evening by a group of young matrons and their husbands, who gathered at the Balboa Island home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Harvey to wind-up social affairs of their Child Study section of Ebell club for the year.

Hostesses in arranging details of the buffet supper which was served in the lovely well-enclosed garden were Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. Charlie McDaniel, Mrs. Adrian Marks, Dr. Stella Davis, and Mrs. Harvey.

Couples attending the affair, which ended with dancing at the San Clemente Casino, were the Messrs. and Mesdames R. M. Conklin, Kenneth T. Conner, John Ebersole, R. K. Harvey, C. H. Holmes, Chester Horton, Harold Moorman, R. F. McKee, James Merigold, John Scarpis, Thoburn White, Hans Wahlberg, Adrian Marks, Charles McDaniel, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Harris, Dr. and Mrs. E. Lee Russell, and Dr. J. P. and Dr. Stella Davis.

TWO PARTIES ARE GIVEN CONSECUTIVELY

Mrs. W. F. Kistinger of 1044 North Broadway opened her home Thursday and Friday afternoons of last week for two lovely breakfast bridges. The delicious menu was served at small tables centered with pansies in white bowls. A lovely large bouquet of white lilies in a silver vase was set in the living room. They were a gift of Mrs. John H. Bower.

Other lovely flowers were sent the hostess by the Mesdames Hugh Gardner, Harvey Gardner, and Newell Vandermast.

Mrs. C. C. Fuller, Mrs. Newell Vandermast and Mrs. Warren Freeman assisted Mrs. Kistinger in serving for the first party, while Mrs. Clarence Bond and Mrs. R. I. Matthews assisted for Friday's party. Prizes winners at the first party were Mrs. John Turton, Mrs. Don Harwood and Mrs. Griggs, who received first, second, and third prizes respectively. Prize winners on Friday were Mrs. A. J. Lashy, Mrs. Tarver Montgomery and Mrs. Ellis Diehl, who received first, second and third prizes respectively.

Guests at the two parties were the Mesdames Don Harwood, Charles Fuller, John Turton, Newell Vandermast, W. E. Dixon, C. J. Gilbank, Charles Blackburn, Chester Hawk, Adelaide Lowe, Hiram Currey, C. H. Caldwell, Warren Freeman, H. A. Gardner, W. R. Daughters, Chad Harwood, Gus Leive, E. C. Frandson, Guy Griggs, Amanda Holmes, Eugene Fenelon, and on Friday the Mesdames Leonard Swales, Tarver Montgomery, John Bower, Anton Segerstrom, D. A. Harwood, A. J. Lashy, C. E. Bressler, Harvey C. Maxwell, R. I. Matthews, Kenneth Sutherland, Walter Vandermast, F. E. Earle, Harry Wetherell, Clarence Bond, Ellis Diehl, and Fleetwood Bell.

SEYMOUR PAUL HONORED AT BUTTON HOME

Honoring Seymour Paul, Laguna artist who is shortly to leave for the Hawaiian Islands, with an exhibition of the artist's oils and prints, Donald Button received a group of friends at his Spurgeon street residence yesterday afternoon.

Oils were hung in the garden and house, while prints were shown from a portfolio.

Assisting Mr. Button in his host duties was his sister, Miss Margery Button, who emphasized the Mexican theme of the afternoon with her gay yellow dirndl dress and bright red bracelet.

Glimpsed in the cool garden in the late afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Braden Ford, the Rev. Julia Eudlong, Louis Danz, Mrs. Babcock Burns of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson of Orange.

This is the first of a series of receptions in which Mr. Button will introduce Southern California artists personally to Santa Anans.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

By MOLLY HARVEY

Editor's Note: This is one of a series of weekly book reviews of current publications which will appear each Monday in The Journal

"A CHILD IN HER ARMS," by Louise Redfield Peattie.
It must have been fate which led Annis Fry to cross the park that morning. Ordinarily she walked around, "for the sight of children playing was one she hurried by nor would she ever look beneath the carriage hood where a baby slept." Fortunate in husband, wealth, position, the outward serenity of her life was a screen to hide her thwarted instincts. Above all things Annis desired a child, and this one thing she was not able to have.

Thus meeting in the park the despairing homeless girl so near her time of fulfillment seemed indeed the hand of destiny. Annis took her home to the correct, pleasant house in Georgetown, established her as an honored guest, enlisted the help of her husband who agreed that Salvia was no person to be catalogued and receive the impersonal aid of some institution.

But, while Salvia's animal spirits reviled in the cool, clean sheets, the dainty breakfast trays, the rose scented bathsalts, she was shrewd enough to realize there would be a price. When in the hospital Annis first held the tiny down-covered head of Salvia's child against her cheek, the look of anguish which filled her face terrified the real mother. The payment Annis would demand was the child itself.

So far the story had belonged to Annis and Salvia, and John Fry had merely been the one who paid the bills. But now he found himself a simple forthright male between two feminine opposites, sympathizing with his wife, yet unwilling to take advantage of Salvia's dependence. And it was because of John that Salvia made the decision which had been inevitable from the beginning.

In a book dealing with such an age old subject with its emotional overtones it would have been easy to over-write and lean heavily on the side of sentimentality. That Mrs. Peattie has shown such restraint and has needed no intelligence of her readers is but one aspect of her skillful craftsmanship.

AUXILIARY AWARDS PAST PRESIDENT PIN

Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars of Santa Ana welcomed many guests from Fullerton, Anaheim, and Orange at its regular meeting last week with Ruth O'Mallia presiding.

Of principal interest was presentation of a past president's pin to Juanita Cozad, and a lovely gift from the auxiliary by Ruth O'Mallia and Janie Kelsey also to her.

Beatrice Davis, hospital chairman, reported on a recent trip to Sawtelle, and it was announced that the all day sewing circle meeting would be held June 23 at the home of Mrs. Anna Planchon, 205 East Pomona street, and that the auxiliary and post would have a joint potluck on June 24.

Refreshments at the close of the meeting were served by Anna McCleary, Janie Kelsey, Effie Hawley and Violet Irvine.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Weir and daughter, Jerry, of 1619 Spurgeon street, have returned from a week spent in Oakland with Mr. Weir's brother and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Brennan Mitchell of Hollywood spent the week-end with Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. H. M. Lee, 1611 Spurgeon street.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout and Patricia, Miss Hattie Kamm, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lieberman and sons, Don and Jack, all went to San Diego yesterday taking with them a picnic lunch.

Mrs. I. W. Bouldin is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Welch in Long Beach.

DINNER SPEAKER AT Y.W.C.A.
A dinner which will be attended by half a hundred or more prominent 'Y' workers will be given Thursday evening to honor Mrs. John Kelso, first vice president of the Young Women's Christian association of the United States.

Volunteer workers, board of directors and committee members will be among the guests who will hear Mrs. Kelso speak. She was formerly dean of women and vocational counselor at Cleveland college of adult education.

Lovely Rites Unite Young Couple

A truly lovely picture in summery pastels was the wedding party yesterday which took part in rites which made Miss Eleanor Henry the bride of Walter Allen Babchuck. The beautiful new Colonial chapel, with its exquisite simple design, was background for the ceremony at which the Rev. H. G. Schmetzer officiated, and was decorated with striking arrangements of gladioli, larkspur, feathery baby's breath, palms, and tall candelabra in which were slim lighted tapers.

The pretty bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Henry of Santa Ana, wore a gown of white crinkle satin crepe with a long train, a tiara, and a flowing veil. Her grandmother's locket, and a dainty blue chiffon handkerchief belonging to her mother carried out the tradition and the bouquet was of lilies of the valley and fragrant gardenias.

Her four bridesmaids and her maid of honor were all attired in shades of blue, while little Bette Lee Brown and Margaret Brown, the flowergirls, wore ankle-length pale blue tulle and carried little baskets of flowers.

Miss Mildred Cordes, as maid of honor, wore delphinium blue chiffon over taffeta, while Miss Fern McGinnis and Miss Majorie Foster wore pale blue net over taffeta, and Miss Dorothy Allen and Miss Clara Hammerschmidt wore frocks of slightly deeper hue. All carried little Colonial nosegays and wore flower tiaras of matching blossoms.

Best man was John Raber, while James Henry, Jr., Bernard Sebastian and Thurman Mitchell served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, attended by approximately 250 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Henry welcomed 100 close friends to their home for a reception at which the bride cut her wedding cake.

The lady wore a smart brown tulle for her going-away costume, and was given in marriage by her father.

Following a rehearsal Friday evening the wedding party was entertained at a supper by Mr. and Mrs. Henry, and the bride presented lovely floral pins and clips to her attendants, and dainty strands of pearls to her flowergirls, while the groom also presented suitable gifts to his groomsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Babchuck will make their home in Los Angeles.

BRIDGE ENLARGED AT LAGUNA
Dr. Mabel Vance Tremaine entertained her contract club in her lovely beach cottage at Laguna Friday. The generosity of her neighbors added to the beauty of yellow snapdragons and coreopsis from her own garden which decorated the luncheon table.

Substituting for Mrs. George Perkins and Mrs. George Chapman were Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon and her houseguest, Mrs. William Taylor Stearns of New York.

Table prizes fell to Mrs. Haddon and Mrs. J. L. Allen. Others who enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Louis Lahr, Mrs. C. B. Hill, Mrs. H. L. Stone, Mrs. C. M. McCain and the hostess.

WEEK-END TRAFFIC DEATHS
IN CALIFORNIA TOTAL 12

LOS ANGELES. (AP) — Twelve persons were killed yesterday in a wave of California traffic accidents which struck with deadliest effect in Los Angeles county.

Seven fatalities, three attributed to hit-run motorists, were reported in the Los Angeles area. Only two highway deaths occurred north of the Tehachapies. The victims were Mrs. Melville Hull, 49, wife of a Madera officer, whose car collided with another near Fresno; and an unidentified man who was struck by an automobile in downtown Fresno.

George A. Thomas, 40, of Alhambra, was killed when his car side swiped a truck on Valley boulevard near Fontana. A collision with a car at Etiwanda claimed the life of a 22-year-old motorcyclist, Donald B. Davis of Huntington Park. An unidentified scion's grinder met death in Imperial valley when a hit-run driver crashed into his pushcart, parking outside Westmoreland.

Death of two pedestrians, William A. Belinski, 24, and an unidentified man about 40, was blamed on a fugitive motorist in Los Angeles. Two other men were injured by the same hit-run driver, police said.

Mrs. Lena Spaeth, 62, Ocean Park, was fatally injured by an automobile which fled from the scene. Other traffic victims here were Mrs. Lena Kellis, 60, pedestrian; K. Asoto, 32, San Pedro truck passenger; John Stein, 72, pedestrian; Caesar Ruggiero, 85, Ocean Park automobile passenger.

Texas Evangelist
In Pulpit Tuesday

An all-day rally service at the Bethel tabernacle, Sixth and French streets, will be climaxed by an evangelistic service by the Rev. J. Siglar Watkins, young morrow.

Where EFFICIENCY
means ECONOMY

IN settling estates, the efficiency of an executor is vitally important. The executor's ability to cope with problems as they arise, to handle each matter promptly and accurately, to eliminate waste motion, and to keep exact records all along the line, can mean many extra dollars for the beneficiaries of an estate.

We have served as executor many times. Our priceless fund of experience, our trained personnel, our carefully planned facilities and our stability as a continuing corporation, are available to you and your family. We will gladly explain our services in detail.

DISASTER PLAN GOES BEFORE BOARD TUESDAY

Diplomas Given Adult Evening School Graduates

6TH ANNUAL BANQUET AT WILLARD HIGH

Two hundred grown-ups—who have gone to school the past year with twice the enthusiasm of their youngsters—tied crepe paper ribbons around their necks Saturday night, munched ham loaf, sang "Polly-Wolly-Do!" and saw nine of their number graduated from high school.

They gathered in Willard Junior High school cafeteria for the sixth annual banquet of the Santa Ana Evening High schools, climax of the 1937-38 adult education program, with a total enrollment for the past four years of more than 6000 persons. Later they attended graduation exercises in the auditorium.

GOOD-NATURED RIBBING
Members of the school board and school administration officials took good-natured ribbing during the dinner, and heard the following impromptu philosophy:

By Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education: "In adult education you can't tell a school teacher by looking at her."
By Mary Louise Fowler, community singing leader: "If you're really scared of somebody, just close your eyes and wonder how he'd look in red flannel underwear."

CLASS INTRODUCED
A dozen members of the naturalization class, who will become citizens this month after examinations in superior court, were introduced by Mrs. Weston.

Guests of honor included Supt. Frank Henderson of the city schools, President George R. Wells of the board of education and Trustees M. B. Youel, Dr. Margaret D. Baker, Ridley C. Smith and Harry S. Harlow.

Dinner was preceded by a reception in the school library, and followed by graduation and a program in the auditorium.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN
Graduates of this year's class were Frank C. Adams, William Carl Sackman, Charles William Wolford and Richard Frederick Wolford, Lathrop Evening High school, and Mildred M. Cady, Charles B. Harper, William Henry Holznecht, Burnett Lane and Dolores Madrid, Willard Evening High school.

The class was presented by W. W. Wileman, principal of Lathrop Evening High school, and diplomas were given out by Superintendent Henderson, with a response by Charles Wolford.

The program included a Spanish dance by Jean McKamy and Virginia Wilson, junior college students, with Mrs. H. G. Wetherell as accompanist; musical numbers by a women's double trio from the Cecilia Singers, and a one-act comedy by members of the Santa Ana Community Players.

Members of the trio were Elizabeth Morgan, Ramona Rabe, Joy Brisco, Margaret Knight, Violet Hillyard, Laura Joiner, and Esther Vogt Gordon, accompanist. In the play cast were Gertrude Horn, Helen Wieseman, Betty Jo Willets and Robert Horn. The play was by Mrs. Frank Was, and directed by Gladys Shafer.

Mineralogists to Meet in Fullerton

More than 50 amateur mineralogists from Orange county and the eastern part of Los Angeles county will gather at a meeting of the West Coast Mineral society in the Fullerton high school science building at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow to hear a discussion of sawing and polishing of semi-precious minerals.

C. W. Hess of Artesia, recently elected as president to succeed Arthur C. Terrill, Fullerton junior college instructor, will conduct the meeting, and Secretary Lee Seabridge of Norwalk and N. W. Matthews of Fullerton, amateur lapidists, will present the program.

Santa Ana Girl Is Honored at Pomona

Dora Lloyd of Santa Ana, a junior student at Pomona college, has been elected vice-president of Mortar Board, women's national picnic organization, for next year. It was learned here today.

Membership in the organization is based on service, leadership and scholarship. Miss Lloyd lives at 611 East Bishop street in Santa Ana.

Grief Aplenty Ahead For Welfare
Director; Here Are Reasons Why

By FRANK ORR

There's no telling, as of break-fast-time today, what will happen to Welfare Director Jack Snow. But it's a cinch that no matter who holds that job under the department's present setup, he'll have nightmares, spots in front of his eyes, stenographers-at-the-key-hole and other grievous ailments.

The welfare department is different from almost any other county office because it's so new and so big, and because it is a mere agency of the board of supervisors, and not a separate office set up by law, like for instance the clerk or the district attorney.

And if the supervisors do go whole hog and bounce Snow, the new director, be it Mrs. Belle Spangler or someone else, will have to worry about:

1. Pressure from supervisors.
2. Pressure from other politicians.
3. Pressure from state and federal governments, which furnish part of the money and demand that things be kept up to snuff.
4. Incompetent political hangers-on in jobs which should be filled by capable workers.
5. Accusations from outside that the director is (a) too hard-hearted; or (b) too free with the people's tax money.

The trouble and the department's size increase in practically a geometric progression. The Spangler-Snow difficulty just happened to make it even more apparent.

People working in the welfare department, unlike those in any of the other specialized county offices, aren't largely experienced career workers. They are political appointees.

A good many of them, to be fair, are loyal, hard-working and competent employees—but that is despite the political system, not because of it.

Supervisors, or bigger political powers through them, can practically dictate who should be hired. Some feel they are working for the man whose drag got the job. The director—past, present or future—has to swallow what he can. Mrs. Spangler herself, if by chance she should succeed to the hot spot, would learn that—although she probably knows it already, having seen others suffer and having had to put up with a large chunk of political stogery in her conduct of her office, and has had some tough sledding to make things click, with the help of the competent element, which certainly has had its troubles too. But so long as the welfare department is a direct agency of five supervisors, it will be a green field for patronage.

20 GROUPS
PLANNED FOR EMERGENCIES

Coming to the attention of the board of supervisors tomorrow will be the proposed Orange County Major Disaster Emergency plan aimed at setting up an organization that will utilize the man power and materials in the county to the best advantage in time of a disaster.

The proposed plan would empower the board of supervisors to name heads of 20 civil authority groups who would be in charge of furnishing men and materials during an unexpected emergency such as a flood or earthquake.

MANY DUTIES

For example the advisory committee head on shelter would be in charge of naming men to his committee who would obtain services of others in the county as well as materials for furnishing shelter to person whose homes were ruined, until such time as other groups, such as the Red Cross, could take over the work to its entirety. Suggested groups that would be called to assist would be the Builders Exchange, the national guard, contracting associations, tent and awning concerns, lumber concerns, veterans organizations and parent-teachers associations.

Other advisory council committees include groups in charge of: rescue, public information, registration, personnel, transportation, communication, flood control, building safety and demolition, fire defense, road opening, traffic, law and order, general supplies, clothing, water supply, food, shelter, medical aid, and corpses.

LIONS TAKE LEAD

Sheriff Logan Jackson, under the plan to be submitted for adoption, would be the coordinator. Drawing up of the plan was asked in an ordinance, number 376, passed by the board of supervisors some time back. One of the first organizations in this area to recommend such action was the civic affairs committee of the Lions club. A tentative draft of the ordinance was submitted to the district attorney who placed it in legal form and later it was submitted to the board of supervisors.

The ordinance itself does not confer any power on any person or officers in the county, nor does it take any away. The present plan is subject to revision, additions or deletions.

SCHOLARSHIP
WON BY BOY

Robert L. Scott, 16-year-old Santa Ana High school senior, today had received one of 34 national scholarships to enter Harvard college next fall.

Carrying a maximum stipend of $1000 the first year and $1200 each year thereafter, the scholarship was awarded to only two other California High school seniors, an announcement from James B. Conant of Harvard revealed. Scott, who lives at 2203 North Ross street, is the son of Horace A. Scott, popular geology instructor at Santa Ana Junior college, and Mrs. Scott, a teacher at Julia Lathrop Junior High school.

College Graduate
With Family Here

Roland Pickhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Pickhardt of Santa Ana, is visiting his parents for the summer following his graduation from Jewel college, Liberty, Mo.

Young Pickhardt, who was graduated from Santa Ana High school and studied at the junior college here, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society. He was pastor of the full-time Baptist church in Elwood, Kan., for the past two years of his college course.

He plans to study in the Baptist ministry at Rochester, N. Y., next fall.

Orchestra At Work
On 'Scheherazade'

Rehearsals for the difficult "Scheherazade" suite by Rimsky-Korsakoff, have been started by the Federal Music Project symphony orchestra, with the celebrated piece to feature its next concert June 23.

Other numbers scheduled on the concert program are the Vorspiel overture to Wagner's humorous opera, "Die Meistersingers," and "The Swan of Tuonela" by Sibelius. Choral music by the federal singers under Dudley Page Harper's direction will complete the program.

4 Charged With
'Borrowing' Auto

When one wants to drive an automobile, it's safer to get the owner's consent.

Four Orange county youths found this out yesterday, following their arrest and booking at the county jail. They are Fred Viramontes, Westminster; Ernie Verdugo and Mayo Ayala, Anaheim, and Frank Andrade, Placentia.

NON-SUPPORT CHARGED
Charged with non-support of a minor child, Wallace Davis, 21, 1318 Lincoln street, Santa Ana, was booked at the county jail Saturday and released under $500 bond.

High School to Exhibit Work and Present Program

The music, art and home economics departments of the high school will present an entertainment and exhibit of their work at the school auditorium this evening, beginning at 7. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Ruth Roland will be in charge of a fashion show. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the high school band. The art department and the home economics division of the school will display their work.

Little Bobby to Jump From Speeding Plane During Show

Without the use of a parachute or other equipment, Little Bobby will leap from a speeding airplane 1000 feet above the ground as one of the attractions at the Second Annual Santa Ana Air show Sunday, June 19.

Amazing as this spectacular stunt may seem to the thousands of folks witnessing the event, to Little Bobby it's all in the regular course of business, for he's made 178 such jumps without being injured. His wings, you see, help to break the fall.

Little Bobby, by the way, is a banty rooster who took up this unusual sport after intensive training at the hands of Bob Nolan of Los Angeles. Roosters are not flying animals such as some of their other fine feathered friends like the eagle and the hawk.

Little Bobby always makes a three-point landing. He'll be one of the star performers at the air show June 19.

COFFING CREW
HOLDS PICNIC

Highlighted by an 11-10 baseball defeat at the hands of the Durkee Products company of Los Angeles, employees of the L. D. Coffing company, Dodge-Plymouth dealers of Santa Ana, held an all-day outing in Anaheim city park yesterday.

Those attending: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Faulkner and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Faulkner and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lerner, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Epperly, Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Kiesel and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. McGuire, Mrs. Rita Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wick, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Leive, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rossier, Mr. and Mrs. R. Munro, and son, Misses Mary and Beatrice Dorf, Miss Phyllis Shreeves, Jessie Castro, Hugo Symonds and Sy Rothfuss.

POPPY SALE
NETS $500

Collection of more than $500 from the Memorial day sales was reported by Glenn D. Hendrickson and Mrs. Edna McCleary, poppy chairmen of the Ernest L. Kellogg Post No. 1680, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and its auxiliary at last night's meeting of the V. F. W. post.

The post voted its appreciation for support of the poppy sale by the public, merchants and the Santa Ana newspapers.

The post and auxiliary are planning a party to celebrate the ninth anniversary of the organization at Knights of Pythias hall June 24.

John G. Hormel To Address Forum

John G. Hormel, founder of the Hormel packing company, will be the principal speaker at tomorrow evening's citizens' forum in the Unitarian church. He will talk on the subject of capital and labor.

Hormel will explain the Austin, Minn., plan for solving the unemployment problem. A prominent local labor official will preside at the meeting and officers of the forum were today to engage a member of the chamber of commerce to introduce Hormel.

The program a week from tomorrow night, when Dr. J. C. Coleman will talk, will conclude the winter series of the forum.

Wins Distinction

Mary Elizabeth Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wallace, 1621 Spurgeon street, will be graduated from Stanford university this month "with distinction," university officials announced today.

PROBATION VIOLATION
Silas Yonn, 22, was arrested in Huntington Beach yesterday and booked at the county jail for violation of probation.

B'NAI B'RITH
INSTALLATION

Formal institution and installation ceremonies of the reorganized Santa Ana chapter of B'nai B'rith lodge is planned for the American Legion hall following a dinner at 6:30 p. m. today.

Officers to be installed: Abraham Edelson, president; Ted Glick, vice president; Human Lewis, assistant monitor; Abe Turk, recording and financial secretary; Adolph Glantz, treasurer; Abe Grans, monitor; Mel Heinemann, warden; Samuel Dreizen, guardian; Nathan White, Sam Roth and William Heiman, trustees.

Forty members will be initiated into the lodge. J. J. Leiberman, grand president of the district grand lodge No. 4, comprising the entire southwestern division, will be guest of honor and principal speaker.

County Democrats
To Meet Tonight

The Orange County Assembly of Democrats will meet at the Santa Ana Junior college hall tonight to hear a talk by Congressman John Dockweiler of Los Angeles, candidate for governor, and to hear a report by Supervisor Harry Riley on his recent trip to Washington.

Chairman Horace Head, Santa Ana attorney, said the assembly does not plan to endorse any candidates for the August primaries, but that every Democratic candidate will be given an opportunity to address the group.

LIONETTES AND COLUMBIA GIRLS WILL MIX TONIGHT

Champion Softball Twirler at Orange Stadium

GENEVIEVE BECK, great hurler of Columbia Pictures, will oppose Lois (Blonde Bombshell) Terry of the Orange Lionettes in a featured game at Orange city park tonight.

TERRY, BECK IN ORANGE MOUND DUEL

Throng Anticipated To See Softball Stadium Dedicated

With a fanfare of band music providing the pre-game color, Orange's Lionettes will officially open their 1938 home season at the Orange city park tonight when they hook up with Columbia Pictures, regarded as one of the most powerful girls' softball clubs in Southern California.

Orange county fans, who have been anxiously awaiting the opening of the Lionettes' home season, will be treated to what promises to be a spectacular mound duel between two of the leading twirlers in feminine softball ranks, blonde Lois Terry for Orange and lanky Genevieve Beck for Columbia.

Orange county fans, who have been anxiously awaiting the opening of the Lionettes' home season, will be treated to what promises to be a spectacular mound duel between two of the leading twirlers in feminine softball ranks, blonde Lois Terry for Orange and lanky Genevieve Beck for Columbia.

The game promises to provide plenty of additional color, as the occasion also will be marked by the dedication of Orange's new softball stadium in the city park, with Mayor A. C. Boice officiating; appearance of Marty Fiedler, known as the "father of girls' softball" in Southern California, before the mike; presentation of several Columbia Pictures film notables, and a pre-game concert, as well as parade, by the NYA band.

Vic Baden, Orange Lionettes' coach, intends to field his strongest club against the picture maids, which means that Melita Foster will be behind the bat; Ruth Lee at first base; Elsie Winchell at second; Margaret Mast at third; and Kasui Oshiki, sensational Japanese girl, at shortstop; Bobbie Wakeham in left; Phoebe Miller in center, and either Melba Estes or Cordius Hamilton in right will complete the outfield.

In addition to presenting the two outstanding pitchers in Southern circles, both teams are strong defensively and pack a lot of power at the plate. Richards, Columbia catcher, is a slugger who rattles the fences more often than not with her long-distance clouting, while Melita Foster, Orange's diminutive backstopper, while not as powerful a hitter, has been leading the American league swatsmiths with an average of .428 against all kinds of pitching.

Nominal prices of 20 cents for adults, 10 cents for children will prevail at all Lionette games. Some of the strongest teams in Southern California—among them Columbia Pictures, Young's Market, Can-Tan, Bank of America, Diamond Walnut, Payne-heat, San Diego, Eastside and Glendora—will be brought to Orange for the Lionettes' home season during the next three months.

Predict Shakeups In J. C. Coaching Ranks

Rumors are afloat that two of Santa Ana's Eastern J. C. conference athletic rivals are on the verge of a drastic shakeup in their coaching staffs.

Over at Fullerton, there is talk that Donald Cruikshank, ex-Trojan who is coaching at the high school, may replace Wendell Pickens as head man of the junior college varsity.

And up at Ontario, many critics believe Burt Heiser will be ousted within two years as head coach at Chaffey Jaycee. Here is what one inland critic, Bob Walton, has to say:

"Don't be surprised if, in a year or two, they knock the word 'assistant' off John Meek's title at Chaffey.

"Meek, who quarterbacked last year's great California eleven, has been employed as assistant to the present head coach, Burt Heiser.

"Folks who like to read between the lines might see in this move a plan eventually to relieve Heiser of his football duties.

"It would not mean curtains at Chaffey for Heiser, who is head of the college's physical education department. He probably would be retained in that position.

"Nevertheless, Heiser's Chaffey football teams in late years have not met with great success, and I understand there has been a certain amount of howling for his scalp.

"No matter what develops, though, Chaffey has signed a high-class football man in Meek, himself a former Chaffey prep star.

What Walton writes may become a reality, but this department, for one, thinks Heiser has done a fine job as head coach of the Panthers. His teams always have been respected by Santa Ana's Dons. Scores have been close and the games exciting. Heiser's clubs are exceptionally smart on defense. There are a lot worse than the burly fellow in the coaching ranks."

Reaching Deep Down Into Sports Barrel

Pacific Coast league players complain that it is exceedingly difficult to build their averages in the Oakland park because (1) a strong wind always blows in over the right field fence; (2) a strong light on the centerfield scoreboard shines directly in the hitter's eyes; and (3) the outfield is lower than the infield, thereby enabling fly-hawks to make catches of low line drives that might fall for safe hits in other parks.

Fish are still running well at Newport-Balboa. And the sailboats, kayaks, motor boats and paddle boards have been liberally sprinkled over the bay at Balboa and Lido Isle, now that Old Man Sol has been casting his rays regularly.

How do you like the sparkle of Santa Ana's Stars? I visited the news office of the Orange Daily News Saturday, and almost was laughed out of office for predicting our local lads would finish

FERNIE BACA FIGHTS NEGRO STAR TONIGHT

LADIES ADMITTED FREE FOR HIGHWAY 101 BOXING CARD

Speed and plenty of action will be combined tonight on the first "Ladies Free" boxing card at the Orange County Athletic club. Matchmaker Frankie Lockhart promises the speed and action will be provided by four of the cleverest boxers from the Ebony club of Los Angeles, and other fighters from Santa Ana, Ontario, Anaheim and Long Beach. The show opens at 8:30 o'clock.

Promoter M. J. (Bud) Levin said that all women, accompanied by one paid admission, will be admitted to the arena without cost, other than payment of the regular tax.

What is expected to be the best fight that has ever been staged in the local arena is the main event between clever, hard-hitting Fernie Baca and Monroe Perkins of the Ebony club. Baca is one of the hardest fighters who has ever fought in the arena and crowds his man every step of the way. Perkins, a colored boy, is a hard slugger and can "take it."

In the second half of the double main event Badge Diaz, Santa Ana, takes on Sammy Walker, Ebony club, at 127 pounds. Jimmy Merced of Placentia meets Joe Gomez, Santa Ana, at 135 pounds in the semi-windup.

Preliminary matches include: B. Jimenez, Ontario, vs. Walter Howell, Ebony club, 122 pounds; Felix Gomez, Santa Ana, vs. Wally Bailey, Ebony club, 130 pounds.

WARD CHAMPIONS SEEK CITY LEAGUE COMEBACK TONIGHT

Deprived of the Santa Ana City league spotlight by clubs which have proved stronger than expected, Montgomery Ward's 1937 softball champions will attempt to hit the comeback trail against Alliance Mutual Life Insurance company in the Municipal bowl at 9 o'clock tonight.

Elite International Trucks can take the loop leadership—temporarily at least—if Alliance Mutual is cuffed by Ward's. The Elks can retain a tie next Thursday when they mix with Treesweet in the final game of the first round schedule.

Good pitching by Ward's chuckers has been nullified by the inconsistent hitting of the club. Ed Bristow, fireball ace who pitches with Bank of America in Los Angeles on other nights, will take the hill against either Everett Winkler or Jack Kratz.

Manager Herb Meyer's Elite outfit will send Armand Hanson against Roy Stout. Stout has put new life in the Mustangs and may give Elite's an argument.

VICTORIOUS TROJANS POINT TO OTHER MEETS IN EAST

NEW YORK. (AP)—In the light of recent developments among the runners, leapers, throwers and vaulters it will not be surprising if the month of June passes into history as one in which records fell like sparring partners in the Joe Louis training camp.

SWIM MARK SHATTERED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Virginia Hopkins, red-haired Los Angeles A. C. mermaid, bettered the world record for the 50 meter free style swim in a meet at the Coliseum pool yesterday. She was clocked by A. A. U. timers in 30.8 seconds, 2 faster than Ethel Lackie's record which has stood since 1926. Fifteen thousand persons saw the race.

The SPORTSMAN

NEW YORK. (AP)—No wonder those Giants nose diving. They scored the grand total of nine runs in their last 54 innings. . . . Incidentally, wouldn't it be the height of something or other if Terrible Terry, who's frantic for a second-sacker, wangled Tony Lazzari from the Cubs and brought him back to New York—but in the National League. . . . Don't worry, though; there's never a chance of the Phillies winning the pennant. . . . If you think a golfer pro has a cinch, consider Ben Hogan, the Texas-born shot-maker. . . . Every time he finishes 36 holes he gets cramps in his leg muscles before he can leave the locker room. . . . The word is out that unless Burleigh Grimes can produce, his days as the Dodger pilot are numbered. . . . Wonder what odds Jack Doyle would lay against a subway world series right now? . . . Joe Jacobs has been at Max Shinesing's Speculator camp so long he can hardly read by electric light on his infrequent visits to Broadway. . . . Deadline for major league trading falls on June 15.

GIANTS SURRENDER LEAD TO CUBS, TAKING 14 OUT OF 17

NEW YORK. (AP)—The New York Giants, if they aren't too busy wondering what has happened to their batting averages during the past week or so, probably are wishing Kipling had been right when he wrote that the East and West never shall meet.

The Giants are down in second place in the National league now, a half game behind the Chicago Cubs, as a result of their fruitless western invasion. They're the same players who recently were breezing along with a five-game lead, but you'd hardly call them the same team.

They have lost six games in a row, four since starting west. They have made only nine runs and 33 hits in those six games and, what's worse, they have had only one pitcher go the full route. Meanwhile, the Cubs have climbed from third place to the top on a streak of 14 victories in 17 games. The Giants got only three hits yesterday as they took a 4-1 drubbing from Cincinnati's Reds and finally lost their lead to Chicago,

THE IMMORTAL FIRE...
Symbolic of the liberty his ancestors fought for in the American Revolution, William Morris today carefully tends a small fire in the fireplace of his home, that has been burning for 147 years.
John Morris, brother of Robert Morris, "The Man Who Financed the Revolution," pioneered into the mountains of North Carolina, in 1791 cleared a likely section of land and built a strong cabin. The cabin contained a cheery open-hearth fireplace.

When their new home was completed, Morris and his bride built a fire in the fireplace and, kneeling before it, vowed never to let it go out. The fire was symbolic of all their dreams--of their love for their country and for each other.
Throughout their lives the fire burned away--year in, year out. Sarah died, but John continued to feed the everlasting flame of love and liberty.
After John, his son, his grandson and his great-grandson, William Morris, continued to keep that flame alive. William Morris today is the sole survivor and caretaker of the fire.

A Sucker for Guest Towels

Charlie Driscoll, in his "New York Day by Day" column, reports that "Tom Stix, radio man, wants to start a nation-wide revolt of males against guest towels. He says no man ever used one willingly, and besides, why should a guest be put upon with embroidery to wipe his face?"

Well, we used to feel that way, too. We'd snatch a surreptitious wipe on one of the family's bath towels, use our own handkerchief, let our hands stay wet, or resort to almost any artifice to avoid musing one of the hostess' cute little guest towels in their tidy row.

We came to the conclusion that it was just inferiority complex or something and, on New Year's day, 1936, adopted a ringing resolution from henceforth to use guest towels on every appropriate occasion; use them boldly, nay, lavishly.

We've stuck to it, and our trail for two and a half years has been marked with soiled and crumpled bits of all the textiles with which ingenious housewives adorn their guest rods. We've found some strange ones, too—colors no rainbow ever displayed, shapes and sizes as various as the fish in the sea, and manufactured apparently from every manner of goods running from silk stocking material to old coonskin coats.

Why, nowadays we often use two, three or four of them at a swipe, and never even eat sheepish about it. If they will put 'em out, we'll manhandle our quota. Mr. Stix needn't solicit our membership in his fraidy-cat lodge.

It's hard to understand why Congressman O'Connell is so anxious to visit New Jersey, now that the mosquito season is on there.

Dreams Come True

The successful test flight of the 74-passenger Boeing Clipper ship marks a real milestone in American progress. It makes the airplane of the future as practical as a locomotive.

Greatest drawback of commercial aviation to date has been the fact that expensive airplanes, making long flights, would carry only a dozen or so paying passengers. From now on, immense planes will carry great numbers of passengers, for if planes can carry 74 they can carry 200.

The ability to carry great numbers of passengers will allow airplane companies to cut rates, and by cutting rates still more will be induced to fly, thus creating a happy circle of prosperity for the air lines.

Any adult can look back just a few years ago to the time when the vision of airplanes carrying 74 persons was a Jules Verne's dream, mainly to be found in the pages of those pseudo-scientific fiction magazines which specialize in stories about trips to Mars.

Here is one dream that has risen from those pages to be a roaring giant of the skies. Perhaps those dreams of rocket ships will some day also become fact!

A Vista Opener

Comes word from Washington, D. C., that Walter O. Banjafield of New York has obtained a patent for a built-in shoe horn, devised to eliminate the perpetual search for that necessary object at moments of crisis.

Citizen Banjafield's fertile mind has opened up vistas that have long been considered irrevocably closed. For, if a built-in shoe horn works and fills a long-felt need, why not built-in collar buttons, which cannot escape down a drain or under a bed in a critical moment? Or built-in umbrellas which could never be lost, but would, at the touch of a button, fold themselves inconspicuously away alongside a fellow's spine and wait patiently for the next shower?

Why not a self-stoking tobacco pipe that would burst into flame every 10 minutes and save matches and wear and tear on dispositions? Or why not a ladies' hat that contained a built-in permanent waver that could be worn while milady went about town on her ordinary duties?

Can't you just see those vistas we mentioned above?

Here's to Clara

Hats off to the chubbily-pouting, eye-rolling, flapper-vamp of yesteryear in the movies—Clara Bow.

In June Clara is going to have a baby, her second. "I had such a terrible time when Rex was born we decided a Caesarian would be best this time. I nearly lost my life."

It sounds simple when you say it fast, doesn't it? But the young woman we all remember as the soft and fluffy "It" girl of a few years back is talking about journeying through the valley of death—all alone, for no one can go with her on this great adventure.

Let all pain-fearing males doff their hats and give a cheer for a real-life heroine, Clara Bow.

Hats Off to Costa Mesa

Costa Mesa again has demonstrated what a community can do to put itself prominently on the map—and at no great expense, either.

The Carnival of Scarecrows was a great success. It well deserved the big crowds it drew, and Orange county residents who did not motor to Costa Mesa over the weekend missed a highly original, thoroughly amusing and most deserving affair.

More power to the people of Costa Mesa for their spirit, their enterprise and their ingenuity.

Fair Enough

By
Westbrook
Pegler

NEW YORK.—Next time Mr. Roosevelt or Honest Hal Licks, the house dick of the New Deal, or Wallace or Jackson or any of those honorary proletarian who swing towels in that corner of the ring sounds off in disrespect of the Old Deal I would appreciate it if somebody would refresh my memory on just what was wrong with it. Because, chums, checking over my recollections, that seems to have been a pretty fair sort of era, especially by comparison with this New Deal period, and if there was anything to be sore about I want to do my duty.

Wasn't the time when they were sticking up tall buildings in all the big towns and building swell new suburbs and kicking out new cars by the millions, including some which retailed for around $6,000 and, what's more, selling them? Wasn't everybody working who could or would work? Weren't fight tickets selling for $55 a copy at the box office and $100 at the gyms, and weren't ordinary, forgotten men able to fish up the price of $25 seats a couple of times a year? Check the files and see.

Kids Had Stocks
Remember how it was almost impossible to get a kid to run copy or get a can of coffee for you because they were all over in the corner reading the tape? Not the baseball tape, either. Hell, no, pals! They were reading that stock tape and forming little syndicates and buying stuff on margin and making money at it, too. The Iowa farmers were selling out and hauling away for Southern California and Florida to take it easy, and ditch labor got $6 a day around here, anyway, and skilled men—some of whom weren't so very skilled, at that—got ten, twelve, twenty.

What do you want to bet that Jim Farley's business has made half as much under this New Deal that he goes around making neck sounds, but not heart sounds, about in duty speeches for the boss and the party as it made under the rotten republicans?

And taxes! Friend, who ever mentioned taxes under the New Deal after—how long it is—six years, then under the old?

I do remember being pretty sore about prohibition, but, to be fair, it wasn't so bad after bootlegging got organized, and, moreover, we fostered a fine domestic skill in those days which is rapidly vanishing from our civilization now. I refer to the home manufacture of gin, beer and wine. Remember, you got a can of alkyl and some distilled water and some gin drops and a little bottle of glycerine, and it was as much a part of your domestic duties to sling a batch of gin together once a week as to bake a mess of bread back in the 1900's. All gone now under repeal, and the poor doctors have lost a very reliable source of practice, in addition to which, with much less dough, the people have to pay much more for their square face, most of it for taxes, licenses and color-press pictures of pretty models in glove-tight swimming suits in the ads.

Yes, I know, the bankers and speculators and hustlers shoved us a lot of wall-paper stocks and bonds, and everybody was knocked in the creek when the wagon threw a wheel. But you wait and see what happens to Morgenthau's Ma-mournees one of these days and then tell me whether, and if so why, it's any more fun to be knocked by a political party and a lot of wabble-wits stuck away in offices in Washington than by a banker, Henry Morgenthau, for gossakes! Why, old Andy Mellon could have stolen his fillings right out of his face with boxing gloves on, without Henry's even knowing it. Henry isn't the one who is shoving the queer. He just runs the building. You know, okay orders for so many mops and so many gross of paper clips and so many tons of spare parts for adding machines to keep track of that deficit. And the tape is a year behind, at that.

I just don't know, neighbor. For a long time when I would hear them say Old Deal in that curl-of-the-lip way I went along, too, feeling that, yes, it certainly was terrible. But let me ask you this: How were you doing back in those terrible days, and if this New Deal is going to be so swell when are those boys going, to get through that long windup and let us see what they've got on the ball?

HM-M!
The Negro preacher happened to mention the Scriptural selection he intended to read the following Sunday. Some boys looked up the passage, and in a spirit of mischief, glued two of his pages together. Accordingly, the following was read to the startled congregation: "When Noah was 120 years old he took unto himself a wife, who was" (then turning the page) "140 cubits long, 40 cubits wide, built of gopherwood and covered with pitch inside and out."

The preacher was very much puzzled, and read the passage a second time, concluding with the remark: "Brethren, this is the first time I ever realized the truth of that verse where it says we are 'fearfully and wonderfully made.'"

Twenty-Five Years Ago

JUNE 6, 1913

Santa Ana's big event of the year, the Moose celebration next Monday, will be highlighted by a huge parade, with the best-decorated automobile to receive a prize. Judges in the contest are Mrs. A. J. Lawton, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank and Mrs. E. M. Nealley.

Miss Nellie Bacon, office deputy for Sheriff C. E. Ruddock, will leave tomorrow for her old home at Ripon, Wis., for a six-week visit. Mrs. Ruddock will accompany her.

FULLERTON.—J. C. Delaney, local district manager of the Randolph Fruit company who disappeared about six weeks ago, has been located in Calgary, Can. In a letter just received by friends, Delaney intimates he has gone away on account of "politics."

The Santa Ana fire department held its annual election last night and named the following officers: Earl Glenn, president; E. E. Wood, secretary; George E. Peters, secretary treasurer; W. C. Young, chief; Peters, assistant chief, and R. S. Dickinson, second assistant chief.

Journalafts

Howdy, folks! Has your hay fever started yet? So has—at CHOO!—ours.

As the poet said, "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Li'l Gee Gee is a thing of beauty, but a jaw forever.

NOW YOU TELL ONE
"I never inhale when I smoke."

Li'l Gee Gee's sweetie has broken their engagement because he says it almost broke him.

The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the earth—
But the hand that holds four aces, Bet on it for all you're worth!

When a movie is O. K. it is passed by the censors, but when it isn't it is sensed by the pastors.

PUNCH DRUNK
And then there was the absent-minded pugilist who put the boxing gloves on his feet and walked out of his corner on his hands.

Nowadays, we told Joe Bung-starter, many couples are omitting the word, "obey," from the marriage ceremony. Do you think that's right?

"Well," retorted Joe, "it never bothered my wife any."

Sometimes a movie hero is one who sits through it.
Three separate gangs of counterfeiters were found working in one house, according to a news item.
This housing shortage is really getting too acute.

JUDGE STUMP

Dear Judge:
Has any wife ever liked her husband's "crooning" as well as he liked it?
E. F. G.
They say that even Mrs. Bing Crosby is getting tired of it. It isn't just Bing in their house—it's that male quartet.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON. — For years, the Rockefellers have jockeyed with the Morgans to control the New York stock exchange. Usually the Morgans have won out.

Now, however, the Rockefellers have a man among the candidates for czar of the exchange who has a good chance to get the job. He is Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth college, and one of the leading educators of the country. The link between Hopkins and the Rockefellers lies in his membership in the Rockefeller foundation, also in the General Education board, powerful endowment organization controlled by the Rockefellers.

Hopkins is a man of great courage and conviction, but his connection with the Rockefellers, even though indirect, may cost him the job.

The young group which now dominates Wall Street is determined to clean up the exchange, and they are just as serious (almost as fanatic) about it as Franklin Roosevelt is about putting across his New Deal program.

Note.—One thing is certain: since the Dick Whitney fiasco, the Morgan firm will not dominate the N. Y. stock exchange.

Another Wall Streeter
Another candidate for the stock exchange presidency to keep your eye on is astute, quiet-spoken Leo Crowley, head of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

He is the No. 1 choice of certain potent Wall Streeters who consider him particularly fitted for the job, as an experienced banker who is also a shrewd politician standing ace high with the president and the securities and exchange commission.

Crowley has headed the FDIC ever since it was organized in 1933. A Milwaukee banker and big-gun Wisconsin democrat, he lined up for the presidency before the Chicago convention. Both in 1932 and 1936 he was Jim Farley's right-hand lieutenant in managing the election in the Middle West.

In Washington, Crowley hasn't always seen eye-to-eye with New Deal fiscal policies, but he has kept his personal opinions to himself and publicly gone 100 per cent down the line for the administration.

Abroad
The car used by the president during his sight-seeing trip at Arthurdale, W. Va., was the special auto recently built to secret service specifications. Equipped with hidden gun racks and a two-way radio set, it was driven to Arthurdale in advance of the president's arrival by a White House chauffeur and a secret service man.

Note.—Pointedly omitted from the president's laudatory references to the West Virginia congressional delegation was the name of buck-toothed Senator Rush Holt, truculent New Deal bolter.

Day
Philosophy

Did you ever stop to think how beneficial even one idea may prove to be? I figure if, by reading an entire book, I can get only one workable idea, the time and money invested in the book has been well spent.

Arthur Brisbane gave me an excellent workable idea which I have used every night of my life for 20 years. I read an article written by him 20 years ago in which he said that he did a lot of his writing at night when there was no one around, no telephones ringing, or other distractions. He could concentrate better at night than during the day. So, he worked by night and slept by day.

By putting a black cloth over his eyes, he was able to sleep just as well during the day as during the night. I do a lot of night work and rarely get to bed before one or two o'clock in the morning. At one time I could not sleep after sun-up. After reading of Mr. Brisbane's method for inducing sleep, I immediately got a black cloth, which I slip over my eyes every morning as soon as daylight begins to break. I now sleep soundly until I get the necessary sleep.

The late Wiley Post, who met death with Will Rogers, was not only a world-famous airplane pilot, but he also was a bronco buster. Like Will, he loved to attend rodeos, loved the plains of his native Oklahoma, loved the scent of the stable.

Wiley told me that if a cowboy, while riding a bucking bronco, let his head bob as the horse pitched, he was sure to be thrown. Wiley said that the violent perking of the head back and forth while riding a bucking horse had the same effect on a rider that an aviator gets when he flies up in the air so high that he can no longer get all the oxygen he needs. His eyes cease to function. His breath doesn't come. His nose and mouth begin to bleed. He loses consciousness.

The next time you see a cowboy riding a bucking bronco in the newsreel, notice how stiffly he holds his spine and neck. There are tricks in all trades.

Many a man has founded his vocation on something he loved doing as a boy. At the age of 10, W. C. Fields loved to juggle. He juggled everything he could pick up around the house—unless his mother got there first. His theory was that a real juggler could juggle anything with safety. This love of juggling brought him in many a dollar later, for he juggled his way all around this awe-struck planet. Later he became the most famous juggler in the world.

A motto that I saw underneath the glass top on a railroad ticket office desk in Toledo, Ohio, reads: "Chop your own wood—it will heat you twice."

Remarkable Remarks

It's one way to cure the recession. Let me alone; I want to help these guys.

—Thomas Burton, Detroit, resisting arrest for intoxication as he passed money around to random pedestrians.

The personal liberty and morals of the riding are in the keeping of, not geniuses, but the ordinary people of the world.

—Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.
Democracy in a population of stupid and predaious men is impossible.

—Prof. E. A. Hooton, Harvard anthropologist.
Baccarat is a wonderful sport, but it is too great a strain on the nerves. Also, it is becoming difficult to find expert players.

—Amleto Battisti, "sky's-the-limit" gambler, announcing his retirement.

I can't seriously believe that the people of Oregon have made me an issue in their state or congressional affairs, but I could stand for being made an issue if they would only leave off the "Madame Perkins."

—Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor.

I'LL TELL YOU.....

By BOB BURNS

One reason why we went to New York last week was to kinda pick up a few ideas on the latest fashions, but when it comes to ladies' clothes, New York can take lessons from Hollywood. Some of our good dressers out there hav'ta have a different ensemble for every occasion.

Not long ago a woman was suin' her husband for divorce and she went to her tailor to get some clothes to wear in court. The tailor said, "Well now, you'll need a direct testimony suit, a cross examination gown and somethin' dainty and clingin' to faint in."
